D.O.Ca. Rioja
Grapes: 85% Tempranillo, and 15% Graciano

91points

VIEW FROM THE CELLAR

"[It] delivers an impressively deep and nascently complex bouquet of black raspberries, cigar ash, Rioja spice tones, a fine base of soil and a suave framing of cedary oak... the wine is deep, full-bodied, focused and tangy, with a good core, ripe tannins and fine length and grip on the nascently complex and nicely balanced finish. This is a young wine and needs cellaring before it starts to drink with generosity, but it is going to be excellent in due course... 2027-2055."
