"A completely alluring wine, with succulent fruit notes, ...showing quite full ripeness as one would expect from this quite warm vintage, but no raisiny or over-ripe notes. ...impressive density but no excess weight, as there's enough acidity to provide focus and energy...plenty of tannin, but it is swaddled in so much plushy fruit that the wine shows no hard edges, even though it is sufficiently structured to develop over the course of at least 6 – 8 years, during which time it will become even more interesting as tertiary notes from bottle age add savory notes to the lovely core of fruit. Deal me in."
