Named one of Robert Parker's "Wine Personalities of the Year."

"Aurelio Cabestrero is a serious importer of high quality Spanish wine who will gain ever increasing recognition as his name becomes better known... there is no question he has a brilliant palate as well as a knack for finding tiny, unheralded estates that are producing high quality wine."

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Grapes of Spain, Inc. was established in November 2001, with its first container landing in the United States in Spring 2002, representing 8 producers. The company imports wines exclusively from Spain and currently represents 36 producers with a portfolio of 90+ wines from all corners of Spain. All of the wines are new to the U.S. market and are from family winegrowers who focus on limited high-quality production.

The Company's temperature-controlled warehouse is located in Lorton, Virginia and all the wines are shipped from Spain to the warehouse in refrigerated containers. Our wines are currently represented in twenty-five states and the District of Columbia.

AURELIO'S PHILOSOPHY

My goal is to find gems regardless of the wine-producing area of origin, as there are equally exciting wines from Bierzo, Pla de Bages and Almansa as from Rioja, Ribera del Duero or Toro. It's not as if a wine's origin is unimportant however I'm not selling a D.O., I'm selling an individual wine. Another key to the style of wines in my portfolio is that many of the winemakers are young and talented; representing the new face of Spanish winemaking. They bring a new point of view to wine quality as many have traveled internationally and have had a broad exposure to the world of wine. Furthermore, many of these winemakers are inheriting old vineyards, a further key to quality.

I hand select each wine and my wines reflect the true personality, quality and character of each vineyard, grape and people who make it. The wines are modern but not international with a balance between fruit and oak, where oak frames fruit flavor instead of overwhelming it. Concentration of fruit character comes from hard work in and an intimate understanding of the vineyard not simply extraction during fermentation. Finesse, not exclusive of concentration of fruit, is paramount to the style of wines I seek to represent. I always look for wines that provide the best value for the money whether at $10 per bottle or $100. Finally I believe the wines in my portfolio represent an authentic expression of Spanish wine.

ABOUT AURELIO

Aurelio Cabestrero, owner, is originally from Madrid, Spain. He worked at Madrid's Café de Oriente Restaurant for three years before coming to the US to work as Sommelier for Taberna del Alabardero in Washington DC. He worked at Taberna del Alabardero for three years and also worked as Sommelier at Marcel's in Washington DC before pursuing his passion to import wines from his country, Spain.

Aurelio has also won the Ruinart 1993 prize as the Best Sommelier in Spain, Best young Sommelier in 1994 by Wine and Gastronomic Magazine and came in second place at the National Sopexa Competition of French Wines and Spirits 1994. He is also founding member of Madrid Association of Sommeliers.

In December 2005, he was named to Robert Parker's "Wine Personalities of the Year" list. "Aurelio Cabestrero is a serious importer of high quality Spanish wine who will gain ever increasing recognition as his name becomes better known. I first met him when he was a sommelier at Washington, DC's finest Spanish restaurant, and there is no question he has a brilliant palate as well as a knack for finding tiny, unheralded estates that are producing high quality wine."

Alicante D.O.

D.O. For centuries this area of Castilla La Mancha was frontier territory. The castle was built to guard the Vinalopó valley, which marked the border between the medieval kingdoms of Castile and Aragon. Almansa DO's history has been one of producing full-bodied reds which were sold to blend with others from the region, as well as being imported by English, Swedish and Flemish merchants, until the mid-nineties, three decades after it won DO status in 1966. The La Marina district was incorporated into the DO in 1987.

Climate: The climate is divided between two subregions, the Vinalopo valley and La Marina. The Vinalopo region is continental that is generally dry and is subject to greater continental influence the further inland one travels, this is the main region for red wine production. The La Marina region is Mediterranean in climate with a milder winter and is distinctly more humid, this is the main region for white wine production.

Soil: Light soils with some alluvial material on top of limestone bedrock.

Grape Varieties: Traditional Spanish grape varieties still hold sway here with Monastrell the predominant variety. Garnacha is also important. Vine training is typically low to the ground and unstructured with wires to allow the vines to better deal with the intense summer heat.

Joaquin Galvez Bauza

Leva Daniel was initially produced to commemorate the birth of Aurelio's first child, Daniel. The project continues to be a cooperation between educator and winemaker, Joaquin Galvez and Aurelio.

Winemaker Joaquin Galvez, one of the most respected Spanish professors in wine tasting, is the first Spaniard to take the prestigious Institute of Masters of Wine courses. In 1996 he released his first wine, made in Jumilla. In 2003 he obtained not only a Gold medal at the prestigious International Wine Challenge in London, but also the Red Wine Trophy for the best Spanish Red Wine in the UK, for the Altos de Luzon 2002.

Wine: Leva Daniel

Grapes: 45% Cabernet Sauvignon, 25% Tempranillo, 15% Syrah and 15% Merlot

This wine is of the greatest concentration and it is delivered after one year of ageing in 50% new and 50% one year barrels. It is sold shortly after bottling, resulting in a muscular, rich and fleshy wine.

2004: 90(+?) points International Wine Cellar issue 128 Sept/Oct '06

2005: "Smoky dark berry and cherry preserve aromas are deepened by dark chocolate and espresso; a floral element emerges with air, adding an exotic quality.

Brighter redcurrant and cherry flavors are focused and deep... impressively concentrated and complex blend"

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 133 July/Aug '07

"very spicy bouquet of pain grille, pencil lead, black fruits, and blueberry. Medium to full-bodied, the wine is still tightly wound but well-balanced. There is ample spicy fruit and good integration of the component parts"

90 points Wine Advocate issue 175 February '08

2006: "Explosively perfumed aromas of fresh red and dark berries, Asian spices, smoky minerals and incense. Deeply concentrated raspberry and cassis flavors are surprisingly energetic-in fact almost weightless. Racy and focused... A very pretty wine that blends deep, sweet fruit with refreshing energy and clarity."

Almansa D.O.

D.O. The region is on the border covering portions of Alicante, Valencia and Murcia. Vineyards were developed here in the 16th Century. The majority of production was shipped to other regions for blending as the wines had copious color and good structure.

Climate: Extreme continental climate with summer temperatures reaching over 100° F and winter temperatures falling to the teens in the winter. Rain averages a scant 14 inches a year.

Soil: Soils are composed of limestone, calcerous soils and some with combinations of clay and limestone.

Grape Varieties: Garnacha Tintorera (aka Alicante “Bouschet”) and Monastrell account for the majority of planted vines. These produce dark, ripe and intensely flavored wines. Garnacha Tintorera is one of the very few grapes that has colored flesh and consequently colored juice immediately upon harvest.

Bodegas Santa Quiteria

Formed in 2001 Santa Quiteria's production is focused on a type of Grenache known as Garnacha Tintorera. Other grape varieties used, but to a much lesser extent, are Tempranillo, Syrah, Cabernet and Petit Verdot. The site of the vineyards is at an altitude of between 900 and 1100 meters, which has proven ideal for this special clone of Grenache.

While Monastrell is making inroads for quality wine in Almansa, like in so much of the southeast of Spain, the autochthonous Garnacha Tintorera differentiates Santa Quiteria. They have a wealth of old vine Garnacha Tintorera at high altitude on poor soils leading to low yields of concentrated yet intensely aromatic grapes. They are also leading the charge in viticultural exploration with new plantings of Petit Verdot and Tannat.

Wine: BT

Grapes: 100% Garnacha Tintorera

The Garnacha Tintorera (a.k.a. Alicante Bouschet) for this wine is harvested from 20 year old vineyards on the Southeast of the Meseta of central Spain, surrounding the village of Higueraula. Fruit for this wine come from a number of different vineyard sites with varying altitudes and expositions with sandy and white, chalky clay soils. The vineyards are dry-farmed and trained in the traditional, vaso, vase-like manner. The production focuses on low quantity and high quality.

Grapes are picked when just ripe so as to present the best character of primary fruit. Both maceration and fermentation take place in stainless steel tanks with selected yeasts, first at low temperatures with dry ice to extract color and grape aromas and then at a relatively cool 70° F, to preserve those aromas. There is no attempt to extract additional tannin or color from the skins as it is not desired for this style of wine. Before undergoing malolactic fermentation the grapes are drained and pressed and then the wine is racked back to the stainless steel tanks. The wine is clarified and lightly filtered before bottling.

Wine: Altitud 1.100
Grapes: 100% Garnacha Tintorera

The Garnacha Tintorera for this wine is harvested from the highest altitude vineyards (1100 meters or higher) of the wineries holdings. These vineyards show exclusively chalky soils. The vineyards are dry-farmed and trained in the traditional, vaso, vase-like manner. Vines are between 20 and 50 years old. Grapes are picked when just ripe, not over-ripe, so as to present the best character of primary fruit. Maceration and fermentation takes place in stainless steel tanks with selected yeasts, first at low temperatures with dry ice to extract color and grape aromas and finally at a relatively cool 70° F, to preserve those aromas. There is no attempt to extract additional tannin or color from the skins as it is not desired for this style of wine. Once alcoholic fermentation is over the grapes are drained and pressed prior to racking back to the stainless steel tanks for malolactic fermentation. The wine is clarified and lightly filtered prior to bottling to assure stability.

Wine: Tintoralba (formerly Higueruela)

Grapes: 100% Garnacha Tintorera

Tintoralba is made from the winery's oldest vines aged up to 90 years with yields of less than 1 ton per acre on average. The majority of the grapes for this bottling come from vineyards between 900 and 1000 meters in elevation. This bottling is the highest of expression of unoaked Garnacha Tintorera from the winery. Grapes saw a cold prefermentation maceration with dry ice to maximize aroma and color extraction which leads to excellent polymerization of tannins. After the cold soak grapes undergo fermentation in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks with pumpovers for control of temperature and extraction. After pressing in bladder presses the wine is aged in stainless steel tank for a short time before bottling.

2011: "The Tintoralba is made from the winery's oldest vines aged up to 90 years with yields of less than 1 ton per acre and situated at 900 to 1000 meters. It has aromas of pure dark plum and rich concentrated black cherry fruit flavors on the palate. It has a velvet texture, chalky tannins and a long finish. Delicious and offered at a great price."

90 points International Wine Review issue 39 Nov/Dec 2013

"Vivid ruby. Candied red berries, licorice and dried flowers on the perfumed nose. Juicy and smooth in texture, offering sweet raspberry and cherry flavors and a hint of smokiness. Bierzo D.O.

D.O. While winemaking was started by the Romans in this area of Spain, its development as a region known for mining and industry precluded major growth of the wine industry. Denominacion of Origin was granted in 1988. The late 1990's saw a bloom of interest in the wines of Bierzo on the international stage.

Climate: This is a cool growing region with summer temperatures averaging 75 and winter temperatures 39. The region averages a bit over 28 inches of rain a year.

Soil: Soils are based on geography and elevation with the majority of this region actually the valley between two major mountain chains. Most vineyards are planted between 1,500 and 3,200 feet elevation. The majority of soils are mixed slate and alluvial . There are also some sandy and granitic soils in the area.

Grape Varieties: Mencia (red) and Godello (white) are the main grapes of the region.

Bodegas y Vinedos Paixar

This is the joint venture of Alejandro Luna, Eduardo and Alberto Garcia focused on the production of a unique expression of Mencia. It started with the acquisition and leasing of tiny parcels of vineyards in the village of Dragonte (population 60) in the Bierzo region. The name Paixar comes from local oral tradition where Paixares are high old plantings of vines surrounded by chestnut and oak trees. Vines are planted directly in weathered slate of different colors and are 80+ years old; typically producing about one pound of fruit per vine. The low-vigor, old vines produce fruit with particularly concentrated aromas and powerful, fine tannins. The vineyards are between 2,500 and 3,000 feet above sea level, a key factor in the slow and even ripening of the grapes. Due to the altitude, harvest is typically 15 days later than the rest of Bierzo.

"Just as Priorat was revitalized by a group of pioneers... Bierzo's mencia also gained its fame through the work of a passionate group of young winemakers... Alberto and Eduardo Garcia, sons of the Spanish wine guru Mariano Garcia, have joined Gregory Perez and Alejandro Luna (owner of Luna Beberide) to create Paixar, a mencia from small blocks of old vines in Dragonte, a mountainous zone of slate soils similar to Corullon. This group of winemakers - all around 30 years old - are the driving force behind Bierzo. They are directly responsible for mencia's fame beyond Galicia and Leon."

"The Bierzo Boys" excerpt from A Delicate Spanish Red Wine & Spirits October 2007

Wine: Paixar

Grapes: 100% Mencia (50 to 80 year old vines)

Hand-harvested into small boxes, cluster sorted, cold pre-fermentation maceration, native yeast fermentation. Aged for 16 months in new French oak barrels and bottled without any filtration.

2011: "I've tasted every vintage of this Paixar ever made--with the single exception of 2010--and regard it as one of Spain's very best wines (and consequently one of the world's best also)...subtle scents of anise, exotic spices and wood smoke prove quite alluring...there's richness and substance, but no sense of heaviness...This will turn out to be a much better wine than anything you'll get from Bordeaux for $70."

95 points Wine Review Online "Keeping Spain on the Map" October 21, 2014

"Inky ruby. Explosive, exotically perfumed aromas of red and dark berry preserves, licorice, Indian spices and incense are brightened by a zesty mineral nuance. Sappy and penetrating, displaying excellent clarity to its juicy black raspberry and blueberry flavors; tangy acidity contributes spine. Suave and seamless in texture, finishing with outstanding vivacity and a whisper of tannins."

Pago Valdetruchas

The wines from Pago de Valdetruchas are sourced from vineyards which are owned by a cousin and uncle of Alejandro Luna (owner of Luna Beberide winery). The 2008 vintage was the first vintage where they bottled their own wines. The vineyards are 500-650 m above sea level and are composed of calcareous clay, sand and slate.

Wine: La Muria

Grapes: 100% Mencia

The grapes come from hand harvested vineyards with an average age of 40 years. The vineyards are composed of calcareous clay soils with some stones and are between 650 and 700 meters above sea level. Fermented in stainless steel vats and bottled unfiltered.

2009: 92 points Wine & Spirits October 2011 100 Best Buys of 2011

2012: "This well-priced Bierzo has everything you could ask for from mencia - the flavors of cherries and berries, the soft texture and the juiciness of the grape." Best Buy

"Tangy and precise, offering energetic raspberry and bitter cherry flavors and a hint of white pepper. The floral quality repeats on the finish, which is firmed by dusty, fine-grained tannins."

88 points International Wine Cellar Issue 170 Sept/Oct 2013

Wine: Los Cerezales

Grapes: 100% Mencia

Produced from a single 75 year old vineyard located 750 meters above sea level with calcareous clay and large sub-surface stones (slate). Grapes were hand harvested and fermented with native yeasts in stainless steel tanks. Following alcoholic fermentation, 50% of the wine underwent malolactic fermentation in tank while the other 50% completed ML in new French oak barrels. Once ML finished all of the wine was aged for 11 months in French oak barrels prior to bottling.

2008: 90 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: "The 2009 Los Cerezales is also 100% Mencia sourced from a single, 75-year-old vineyard that was aged for 11 months in French oak. More complex, richer, and with greater volume than its unoaked sibling, it is likely to blossom for another 1-2 years but can be approached now. It is an outstanding value."

90 points Wine Advocate issue 195 June 2011

"This red is supple but intense, with forceful smoke and mineral notes framing a core of black cherry and plum. Anise and herbal accents fill out the picture. Drink now through 2018."

Bodegas y Vinedos Luna Beberide

Alejandro Luna is the owner of this moderately sized estate. Born in Ponferrada he spent 10 years, from the age of 16 to the age of 26, in Madrid studying toward his Bachelor's and Law degrees. After finishing his academic work in 2001, he came to work as director for the family winery, which was started in 1987.

70 hectares of vines are planted between 450 and 900 meters, on south facing slopes in calcerous clay or decomposed slate. Vines range in age from 20 years for foreign grapes to 60 years for Mencia. 5 Hectare are used for experimental vineyards looking at how foreign grapes take to Bierzo's climate; they are planted with about 30 varieties including Riesling, Cabernet Franc, Pinot Noir, Macabeo, Albariño and Sauvignon Blanc. No herbicides or pesticides are used on the vineyards. The philosophy of the winery is to produce wines based on quality of and respect for the land, primarily from native grapes along with grapes from other parts of the world.

Winemaking starts with all grapes being hand harvested into 18 kilo boxes. Careful cluster sorting, eliminating unsound bunches continues the push toward quality. All varietals are fermented separately with native yeasts prior to aging in oak barrels. All of the wines are bottled unfiltered.

"Bodegas y Vinedos Luna Beberide is an excellent source of value-priced wines from the increasingly fashionable DO of Bierzo" Wine Advocate issue 195 June 2011

Wine: Luna Beberide Godello

Grapes: 100% Godello

Produced from 60 year old vineyards, which were propagated as a clonal seleccion of best vineyard plots of Godello within Bierzo. Soils are a combination of calcerous clay and decomposed slate. The vineyard is located between 600 and 750 meters of elevation.

Grapes were hand harvested prior to overnight skin contact. The pressed must sees fermentation in stainless steel tanks at low temperatures (12-15° C). Following fermentation the wine is aged for 3 months on fine lees prior to bottling.

2013: "This is a textbook godello, deliciously citrus and mineral flavor. Juicy and firmly structured by acidity, this is a white to drink now with raw shellfish, especially oysters spritzed with lemon."

91 points (Best Buy) Wine & Spirits Magazine issue 3306 October 2014

"Light gold. Mineral- and smoke-accented aromas of dried pear, peach, melon and citrus pith, with a gingery quality adding vivacity. Juicy and precise on the palate, offering refreshingly bitter peach pit and pear skin flavors and a touch of bitter quinine. Shows very good focus and vivacity on the long, incisive finish, with the melon and ginger notes echoing."

2012: "Sappy dark berry flavors are focused and seamless, picking up spiciness with air. The floral quality comes back strong on the finish, which is sweet, spicy and persistent, with very soft tannins."

90 points International Wine Cellar Issue 170, Sept/Oct 2013

2013: "Mencía at its best can be sweetly ripe while still tasting as vibrant and juicy as this wine does. It's full of crisp red fruit and nuanced spice – eminently drinkable. In fact there's little better to accompany charcuterie."

91 points (Best Buy) Wine & Spirits Magazine Issue 3306 October 2014

"Bright violet color. Lively and focused on the nose, displaying scents of red berries, cherry pit, licorice and fresh flowers. Tangy redcurrant and bitter cherry flavors show very good depth and put on weight with aeration. Clean, minerally and precise, with strong closing thrust and lingering spiciness."

Finca la cuesta

Luna Beberide

Wine: Finca la Cuesta

Grapes: 100% Mencia

Fruit for this wine is sourced from a single steeply-sloped, south-facing vineyard in Villafranca de Bierzo. The vineyard is between 700-800 meters in elevation and is planted with 60 year old vine Mencia. The soils are comprised of Bierzo's two main soil types, decomposed slate and limestone based clay. Following fermentation with native yeasts in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks, the wine was aged for 12 months in 75% French and 25% American oak barrels. Bottled unfiltered.

2008: 91 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: 91 points (Best Buy) Wine & Spirits October 2011

2010: "It shows fruit with both red and black cherry tones as well as blackberry character, with plenty of punch for serving with robust foods but no excessive weight, making it very promising for lighter fare based on duck, pork or veal. Already a compelling wine, this will become even more interesting with time as it picks up tertiary aromas and flavor accents."

Wine: Luna Beberide Daniel

Grapes: 100% Mencia

Grapes come from a selection of the best parcels of vineyards owned by Luna Beberide's family planted in the hillsides with slate soils facing South between 2,296 to 2,952 feet above sea level. Harvested by hand in small boxes at 20 hectoliters/hectare during the first week of October. Macerated and fermented in small stainless steel vats for 20 days with 2 or 3 pump over every day. The wine was aged for 15 months in New French oak (Renou, Seguin Moreau, Taransaud). Fined with egg whites and bottled unfiltered in April 2005.

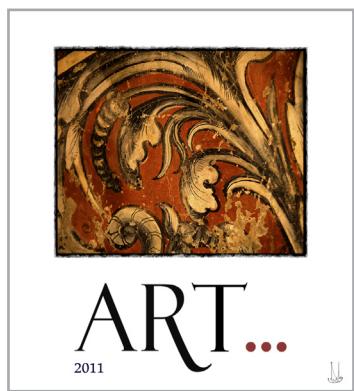

This wine is a special cuvee created to commemorate the birth Aurelio's son Daniel.

2003: "This oak-aged cuvee is a terrific example of Bierzo. A black/blue/ruby color is accompanied by a gorgeous nose of violets, blueberries, raspberries, and cherries. Elegant, with good acidity, fabulous density, and a broad, cerebral palate impression, this is a gorgeously structured, well-delineated wine"

92 points Wine Advocate issue 159 June '05

"It is intense and structured, but shows plenty of deep, sweet fruit to counterbalance the oak and tannins. The fruit notes are quite complex, including red and black cherries and red raspberries, with undertones of smoke, spices and subtle vanilla. Displaying many layers and facets of aroma, flavor and texture, this as interesting as it is downright delicious."

Wine: Luna Beberide Art

Grapes: 100% Mencia

Made from a selection of best Mencia from south facing vineyards planted between 800 and 900 meters in elevation. The vines are between 70 and 80 years old, yielding 25 Hectoliters per hectare and are grown in decomposed slate along with abundant mother rock. Grapes were harvested the 1st week of October. Grapes were hand harvested and sorted prior to destemming and fermentation with native yeasts in stainless steel tanks. The wine was aged for 1 year in French oak barrels prior to being bottled unfiltered

2006: 93 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: 94 points Wine Advocate issue 195 June 2011

2010: "Glass-staining purple. Explosively perfumed bouquet evokes red fruit liqueur, potpourri, smoky minerals and Asian spices. Vibrant, palate-staining raspberry and bitter cherry flavors show superb intensity and carry no fat. Silky, sweet and penetrating, finishing with excellent clarity and mineral-driven persistence."

92 points International Wine Cellar issue 164 Sept/Oct 2012

2011: "Bright violet color. Sexy, high-pitched red berry and floral pastille aromas are complicated by suggestions of cola and star anise. Juicy, focused and pure, displaying excellent verve to its mineral-laced black raspberry and bitter cherry flavors. The wine's mineral element adds lift and precision to the long, subtly tannic finish."

Calatayud D.O.

Located in the Province of Zaragoza (Aragon) in north eastern Spain.

Climate: Continental climate with hot, dry summers and cold winters. This is among the driest growing regions for wine grapes of all of Spain

Soil: Soils are typically based on iron-rich clay or a combination of clay and chalk. They often also exhibit stones, either rounded large (~3 inch) stones or broken slate.

Grape Varieties: Garnacha Tinta (Grenache) is the main variety for the region. Other allowed red grapes include: Tempranillo, Syrah, Mazuela (Carignan/Carinena), Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Bobal and Monastrell. Allowed white varieties include: Viura, Garnacha Blanca, Malvasía, Chardonnay, Gewurztraminer and Sauvignon Blanc.

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion

Isaac Fernandez Selection is the newest venture of the famous winemaker, Isaac Fernandez, who has spent more than 25 years producing some of the best wines in the Ribera del Duero region. He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Acentor Garnacha

Grapes: 100% Garnacha Tinta (Red Grenache)

This wine is produced from old vines, aged 50 years and older which are trained en vaso. The vineyards are located between 750 and 1000 meters above sea level and have iron-rich clay soils with many large stones.

Fruit for this wine was hand harvested. The grapes were destemmed and fermented in cement tanks. Malo-lactic fermentation was also completed in cement. Following fermentation the wine was aged for 4 months in a combination of 50% used French oak barrels and 50% used American oak barrels.

2011: 89+ points International Wine Review Issue 39, Nov/Dec 2013

2012: "The 2012 Acentor Garnacha offers aromas of dark red berries and spice. It is fruit forward and medium weight with good structure and intense fruit flavors with hints of smoke, earth and minerals. The finish is dry and tannic. The wine is produced from old bush vines aged 50 years and older at 750 to 1000 meters altitude."

88 points International Wine Review Issue 39, Nov/Dec 2013

2013: "Vivid ruby. Energetic dark berry and cherry aromas are complicated by hints of pungent herbs and flowers. Fleshy, gently sweet black raspberry and mocha flavors are sharpened by juicy acidity and a hint of peppery spices. Gains in breadth and weight with air and finishes sweet, smooth and long, with only a trace of tannins."

Colas Viticultores S.L.

Roque Colas was started in 2010 by Carmelo Colas and his two sons Cesar and Mario. Cesar is the winemaker and has been making wine in northern Spain for a number of years before starting this project with his family.

Fruit for the wines is sourced from 12 hectares of vineyard located in Alhama de Aragon, Calatayud. The vineyards are organically farmed and have been certified organic for 14 years. Yields are very low only; 2,000-3,500 kg/ha (from less than 1 ton/acre to about 1.5 tons/acre). The vineyards are mostly 85 year old vine Garnacha, which the family has been growing for 5 generations. They also grow Tempranillo and Cabernet Sauvignon (17 year old vines) at high elevation, 750-800 m, where there are diurnal temperature shifts of up to 20 C.

ROQUE COLÁS

Wine: Roque Colas

Grapes: 55% Garnacha, 35% Tempranillo, 10% Cabernet Sauvignon

Harvest is staggered based on variety, soil type, and exposure, starting in mid-September and lasting until the end of October. Fermented in 25hl tanks with periodic punch-downs. The wine was macerated with skins for 15 days. Alcoholic fermentation occurred spontaneously with native yeasts. ML occurred in barrel. Each variety was aged separately for 16-18 months in 80% French and 20% American oak barrels. Following blending, the wine was clarified using egg whites. Bottled unfiltered.

Campo de Borja D.O.

Located in the northwest of the province of Zaragoza (Aragon, Spain). It is a transition zone between the plains of the River Ebro and the mountains of the Sistema Ibérico. The Moncayo mountain is the dominant feature of the D.O. and creates a micro climate which gives the wines a special character.

Climate: Campo de Borja is a region with very continental climate, with an Atlantic influence during the winter, whose most noteworthy characteristic is “Cierzo”, a cold and dry northwest wind, and a Mediterranean influence during the summer. This peculiar climate provides it with unique characteristics which make it different from other wine producing areas. There are marked daily and seasonal temperature contrasts, with extreme temperatures. Rainfall is low, reaching an average of 14 inches in the lowlands and up to 18 inches in higher areas.

Soil: The soils that predominate in Campo de Borja are brown limestone and terraced floors, with medium stoniness, good drainage, average levels of organic matter and rich in nutrients. There are also ferrous clay soils on the slopes closer to Moncayo, where stoniness is greater.

Grape Varieties:

Authorized red grapes: Garnacha, Tempranillo, Mazuela, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah

Authorized white grapes: Macabeo, Moscatel

Bodegas Abanico

Campo de Borja is known as the empire of Garnacha and is widely recognized as being the place of origin of this popular variety. The Las Gavias wines are made from 100% Garnacha, mostly from old bush vines, ranging from 40 to 60 years in age.

Wine: Las Gavias

Grapes: 100% Garnacha

Once optimum ripeness was reached the grapes were picked by hand using small boxes. Following a maceration on skins of 4 days the must was pressed and fermentation process initiated using ambient natural yeast. Concrete tanks are preferred for the vinification of this wine as the temperatures are easily controlled.

2011: “The 2011 La Gavias Garnacha displays a dark ruby color and fresh aromas of ripe black cherry. It is sweet and velvet smooth on the palate with good flavor, a soft texture and good overall structure. It has firm round tannins and a spicy persistent finish. Fermented in concrete tanks and aged without any oak.”

89 points International Wine Review issue 39, Nov/Dec 2013

“Deep ruby. Intensely perfumed aromas of ripe black and blue fruits, with a peppery overtone and sneaky florality. Juicy and precise, with focused, juicy red fruit and floral pastille flavors that gain sweetness and depth with air. Finishes on a slightly jammy note, with good clarity and cling.”

89 points International Wine Cellar issue 170 Sept/Oct 2013

Wine: Las Gavias Rosado

Grapes: 100% Garnacha

Grapes were picked slightly before optimum ripeness so as to achieve lower alcohol and color than grapes used for red wines. Small 22 lbs boxes used during harvest to ensure grapes remain intact and don't suffer oxidation. Upon entering winery the grapes are lightly crushed and sent to the press where they are chilled and remain on contact with skins for 2 hours. Fermentation at cool temperature follows in stainless steel tanks.

Wine: Legado del Moncayo 2013

Grapes: 100% Garnacha

The Legacy of the Moncayo mountain, an extinct volcano, is this exceptional wine. 40 year old Garnacha vines are grown on the mountain's flank; influenced by cold, dry winds skirting the peak and the stone rich clay soils. The grapes were hand harvested, carefully fermented in stainless steel tanks and bottled straight from the tanks to preserve the intense red cherry aromas and spice of the fruit. This wine is an excellent choice with barbecue, tapas, paella, and cheeses.

2013: "Deep ruby. Assertively perfumed bouquet evokes fresh raspberry and Asian spices, with a subtle floral quality and zesty minerality. Silky and precise on the palate, offering sappy red fruit and floral pastille flavors underscored by zesty minerality. Cava D.O.

D.O. The production of Cava is based in the south Catalonia, just south of Barcelona. Although this is the home of Cava within Spain, 7 different regions are allowed to produce Cava. The first commercially significant vintage of Cava was 1872. The wine was based on cool secondary fermentation in underground cellars, grapes sourced from high altitude vineyards yielding grapes with higher acidity and heavy bottles to resist explosion. Another force which made an impact was the vine louse phylloxera striking the Champagne of France.

Climate: Moderate temperatures and 16-18 inches of rain a year near Barcelona yield the proto-typical Cava.

Soil: Deep clay-chalk near Barcelona with soils varying by region, as you might imagine.

Grape Varieties: Allowed grapes include Macabeo, Parellada, Xarel-lo, Chardonnay, Malvasia, as well as the following red grapes: Garnacha, Monastrell and Trepat. Outside of Catalonia Macabeo is the major grape for Cava. Most harvests start in late August to maintain natural acidity.

Maria Casanovas

MARIA CASANOVAS'S CAVA is the expression of family commitment. Its high quality is provided by the best basic wines and with the excellence of its unique art of blending. The Maria Casanovas's winery is located at the heart of Penedés region, in Sant Sadurní d'Anoia, the capital of Cava. Its soil and its Mediterranean climate enable the production of unique variety grapes. We strictly monitor 9 hectares of vines throughout the year from the varieties such Xarel-lo, Parellada, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir.

Wine: Maria Casanovas Brut de Brut

Grapes: 33% Xarel-lo, 33% Macabeo, 34% Parellada

Produced from a rigorous selection of best base wines from across Penedes. After a complete comparative tasting of all lots as well as an exhaustive technical analysis, the base wines were selected and blended. The wine was bottled with sugar, yeast and bentonite to undergo secondary fermentation. Lots are aged on lees for between 15 and 24 months prior to disgorging and finishing with no dosage.

N/V: "Blending the three traditional Cava varieties, this presents a clean sparkler with scents of white tea and rose. It finishes with the richness of brioche and cream, cut by fragrant, pithy lime. Balanced for ready drinking, this is a great party pour."

90 points Wine & Spirits Magazine August 2014

Wine: Maria Casanovas Glac

Grapes: 40% Pinot Noir, 60% Traditional Cava varieties: Xarel-lo, Macabeo, Parellada

Grapes for this wine are sourced from vineyards between 20 and 30 years old. The goal with this wine is selection of high quality vin clare for clarity of flavor; hence the name of the wine "Glass." The wine underwent 18 months aging on lees prior to disgorging. Bottled without dosage so the final wine is Brut Nature.

N/V: "Light yellow. Highly perfumed, complex bouquet evokes lemon, orange, toasty lees and white flowers. Nervy citrus flavors give weight to heftier melon and nectarine with air. Aeration brings out a smoky quality that carries through a focused, persistent finish."

90 points International Wine Cellar Cava for All Seasons, November 2011

"A point noir-based blend that includes the traditional macabeo, xarel-lo and parellada, this opens on lush red-fruit flavors raspberries and red apple-skin that lead into a mineral finish with the austerity of crushed stone. Decant this to get past the hint of sulfur and you'll have an impressive Cava to serve with jamon de Jabugo."

Wine: Maria Casanovas Brut Nature Pinot Noir

Grapes: 95% Pinot Noir, 5% composed of traditional Cava Grapes

The rose is produced from Pinot Noir blended with a small amount of Chardonnay. The wine is assembled after an in depth tasting of various lots of wines from estate parcels searching for exceptional balance in the finished wine. Aged on lees. No Dosage.

2004: "Orange-pink. Intensely floral aromas of raspberry, strawberry and redcurrant. The fine, energetic mousse adds to the impression of liveliness. Dry, firm and tangy, with redcurrant and cranberry flavors framed by brisk acids. Expands and deepens on the finish, taking a turn toward cherry and showing excellent power and length. This is way too easy to drink."

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 128 Sept/Oct '06

"The 2004 Brut Nature Pinot Noir is a dark pink, salmon-colored wine with a lovely perfume of strawberries and rose petals. Elegant on the palate with persistent small bubbles, the flavors are precise and the finish pure."

Bodegas U Mes U Fan Tres (1+1=3)

1+1=3 is one of the few wine growing estates in the Penedes that exclusively bottles its own production. Meticulous care is taken over the vineyards as well as the vinification process. The result is a range of delicious, beautifully made wines with the emphasis on finesse, elegance and a perfect balance.

Wine: 1+1=3 Cava Brut

Grapes: 45% Xarel-lo, 30% Parellada and 25% Macabeo

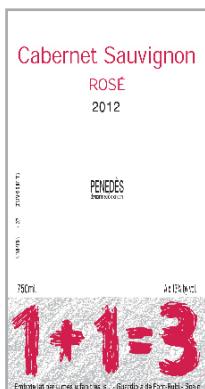

Produced from estate-grown, hand-harvested grapes, this Cava was bottled in Spring 2010 using yeast from the Oenologist Institute of Champagne. Second fermentation commenced in bottle, which took three months at 57° F. This wine was aged in the bottle for 21 months before disgorging. The wine is disgorged to order and thus length of time on yeast varies. All bottles are marked with a disgorgement date on the back label.

N/V: "It delivers floral aromas, melon, mineral, and assorted white fruits leading to a sparkling wine with good volume, a lively palate feel, and plenty of flavor. Drink this solid value over the next 1-2 years."

87 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

"Pale yellow. Spicy aromas of pink grapefruit, lemon peel, fresh mint and ginger. Light-bodied and dry, with good energy to the flavors of citrus fruits and spices. Finishes somewhat austere, with a repeating citrus note."

Conde de Subirats

The vineyards for this winery once belonged to the Subirats Castle, hence Conde de Subirats. As a commercial concern, the winery was started in 1948. In 1990 and 1991 the current vineyards were purchased and planted, including Chardonnay, a rarity at that time. A new winery building with the latest winemaking technology was started in 2003 with construction being completed in 2005. The estate vineyards are planted predominantly to Chardonnay, with lesser amounts of Pinot Noir, Macabeo, Xarel-lo and Parellada. Farming the vineyards is conducted vine by vine, with each vine getting differing amount of pruning, leaf thinning and irrigation based on a technical analysis of the soils and exposition of the vineyards.

Wine: Conde de Subirats Cava Brut

Grapes: 55% Macabeo, 40% Parellada, 5% Chardonnay

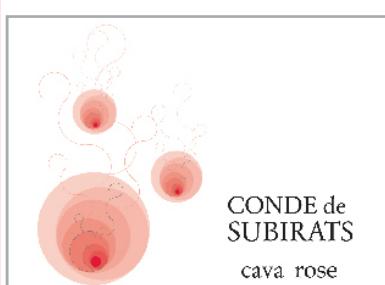

This wine is produced from grapes grown in the heart of Sant Sadurní d'Anoia, the birthplace of Cava, among the high altitude hills of the subregion of Espiells. The grapes are harvested early to maintain naturally fresh, crisp acidity and are then fermented, separately in temperature controlled stainless steel to maintain the optimum of bright fruit aromas. The base wines are then blended and bottled with a bit of yeast to age for 18 months on lees prior to disgorging. The dosage is made with the most neutral flavored liquor to allow the flavor of the original grapes to shine. Total residual sugar: 10.5 gm/liter.

N/V: "This is cava with character. It's got floral and fruity notes, and a little bit of biscuit in the background. Although it has a slight hint of sweetness, this bubbly manages to remain wonderfully refreshing. And talk about a bargain!"

Wine: Conde de Subirats Cava Brut Rose

Grapes: 90% Trepat, 10% Pinot Noir

The grapes are harvested early to maintain naturally fresh, crisp acidity and are then fermented in temperature controlled stainless steel to maintain the optimum of bright fruit aromas. All of the grapes see cool pre-fermentation maceration prior to bleeding. There is no press wine used in the base. The base wines are then blended and bottled with a bit of yeast to age for 18 months on lees prior to disgorging. The dosage is made with the most neutral flavored liquor to allow the flavor of the original grapes to shine. Total residual sugar: 10 gm/liter.

N/V: "The Non-Vintage Rose Brut is composed of 90% Trepat and 10% Pinot Noir. Medium pink in color, it reveals a charming nose of strawberry and rhubarb. On the palate it is just off-dry, spicy, and flavorful. Drink this savory effort over the next 12-18 months."

"Spicy redcurrant and cherry on the nose, with complicating note of anise and cinnamon. Sweet and sappy, with a velvety texture to the fresh red and dark berry preserve flavors. The dry finish features good cut and a repeating cinnamon quality. This is an excellent value in grown-up pink bubbly."

The Biutiful Cavas are produced at a winery created in 2007 utilizing the latest technology for the production of Cava. The vineyards are based in Requena; a region with a grape growing history dating back to the 7th century BCE. The region lies about 70 km West of the Mediterranean Sea and combines Mediterranean and Continental climatic influences. The winters are long and cold, getting down to near 0F. The summers are quite short punctuated by long, hot days with a cooling easterly wind in the afternoons/evenings. The elevation of the vineyards is between 700 and 900 meters and they grow Macabeo, Chardonnay and Garnacha.

Wine: Biutiful Cava Brut NV

Grapes: 80% Macabeo, 20% Chardonnay

This Cava is produced from some of their best grapes sourced from the Western portion of Requena from vineyards with a Northern orientation. Base wines are selected for aromatic expression not neutrality. Production follows traditional methods with secondary fermentation in bottle followed by 15 months aging on the lees. Total residual sugar after disgorgement and dosage is 8g/l.

“Also an 80/20 blend of Macabeo and Chardonnay, this is a fruity sparkler that’s full in the mouth and finely textured with very good length.”

88 points International Wine Review issue 42, May/June 2014

“Green apple, citrus and distant celery aromas feed into a fresh, peppy, citrusy palate with tangerine, lime and pink grapefruit flavors. The finish is citrusy like the palate, meaning it’s bright, juicy and dry.”

Wine: Biutiful Cava Brut Nature NV

Grapes: 80% Macabeo, 20% Chardonnay

This Cava is produced from some of their best grapes sourced from the Western portion of Requena from vineyards with a Northern orientation. While it could be labeled as a Reserva, as it spends 15 months on lees as opposed to the minimum of 9 months, we chose to simply label it as Cava. It is a Brut Nature, which is to say no sugar was added at the end of aging on lees. Residual Sugar: 1.1g/L

“Spanish importer Aurelio Cabestrero offers this sparkler, which lives up to its name. It’s richer than most cava, thanks to a 20 percent addition of chardonnay in the blend.”

Wine: Biutiful Cava Brut Rose NV

Grapes: 100% Garnacha

The grapes for this wine were harvested from the Western portion of Requena, from vineyards with Southeastern exposure which helps to maintain floral aromas. Grapes were destemmed and saw a few hours of skin contact prior to pressing. The wine was aged on lees for a minimum of 9 months without exposure to light or movement to incorporate great complexity, a round mouthfeel and fine bubbles. Residual Sugar: 9.1g/L

"Smoky stonefruit aromas lead to a fresh and zesty feeling palate that hits firmly with plum, raspberry and citrus flavors. The finish on this rosé Cava is solid but gaseous, with red-fruit and citrus flavors to spare."

Jumilla D.O.

D.O. Escaping phylloxera in the 19th century the region enjoyed a boom as winemakers traveled south from the devastated France. Unfortunately, ungrafted vines continued to be grown here until a recent spread of phylloxera in the late 1980's lead to a fresh start for many growers. Most affected growers planted Monastrell, Syrah and Merlot. The Denominacion of Origin was created in 1996.

Climate: The region is dominated by a continental climate with the possibilities of extreme heat in the summer with temperatures exceeding 100 Fahrenheit.

Soil: Red-brown top soils over limestone.

Grape Varieties: Grape growing is strictly controlled through allowable fruiting buds per plant based on density of planting as well as maximum extraction of juice versus weight of the grapes. Important varietals include, Monastrell, Garnacha, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah.

Bodegas Silvano Garcia

Winemaker Silvano Garcia, trained as an Enologist at the School of Vine and Wine of Madrid and has received a Master's degree in Viticulture and Enology. He is the youngest winemaker and producer of the "New Jumilla." This family estate was founded in 1925 and is now owned by Silvano Garcia. The winery has Monastrell, Tempranillo, Syrah and Moscatel planted.

"In my case what I consider important is not what happens in the winery but the raw material that reaches it from the vine. It is essential to [have] healthy fruit at its optimal level of maturity and [from] this is difficult to get a bad wine."

"There are two fundamental characteristics of our Bodega. The first of these is the Monastrell varietal. Monastrell is in its native habitat in our environment and grows better in our area than anywhere else in the world. The second is the fact that we have been harvesting and vinifying some of our own vineyards for more than 50 years. This experience along with the monitoring that takes place during the vineyard walks informs us as to the best virtues of the grapes and guides their development and final destination as bottled wine."

Wine: Vina Honda

Grapes: 60% Monastrell, 20% Tempranillo, 10% Syrah and 10% Merlot

Grapes come from 25-30 year old vines that yield less than 2 kilos per plant. The grape varieties are fermented separately using traditional methods with a total of 8-10 days on the skins. Gentle pump overs and a pneumatic press were used to minimize harsh tannins. This wine was not aged in oak barrels.

"Silvano Garcia is among the winemakers pushing Jumilla to the front of the line of contenders among emergent Spanish DOs. Leathery and a bit raw in its dark stone and tree-bark accents, this is gutsy and complex, with a savory edge and chewy depth."

Wine: Vina Honda Monastrell

Grapes: 100% Monastrell

Harvest was conducted by hand from dry-farmed, vaso-trained vineyards. The monastrell is fermented in a traditional manner in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks and skins macerate for between 9 to 10 days depending on the lot. Gentle pump overs and a pneumatic press were used to minimize harsh tannins. This wine was fermented and aged in stainless steel tanks.

Grapes: 50% Monastrell, 30% Cabernet Sauvignon, and 20% Tempranillo

Most of the grapes for this blend were harvested during the second week of October. Yields were lower than for the Monastrell, less than 1.5 Kilos per vine. Each varietal was fermented separately. The grapes were destemmed and lightly crushed prior to a 16 day maceration with fermentation temperatures between 26 and 28° C. Pressing was with pneumatic press. The wine was aged for 8 months in oak barrels, 20% new, 60% second fill and 20% third fill.

La Mancha D.O.

La Mancha may be best known as the setting for Spain's most famous story, Don Quixote. But it is also the largest D.O. in Spain covering sections of 4 provinces; Albacete, Ciudad Real, Cuenca and Toldeo. It is also the largest wine producing area in the world with nearly 200,000 hectares (approximately 500,000 acres) of vineyards.

Climate: Elevation across the region averages well over 600 meters and helps define "continental" climate. Here very cold winters (as low as 10oF) lead to an abrupt warming in spring time to very hot summers (highs sometimes exceed 110oF). The region is very dry getting only between 12-15 inches of rain a year. The majority of vineyards are dry-farmed.

Soil: While it is a very large region, soils tend to be remarkably similar across the D.O.; composed of red-brown sandy clay which offer low levels of organic matter and are relatively high in limestone and chalk.

Grape Varieties: The major grapes grown in La Mancha are Airen (white) and Cencibel (red a.k.a. Tempranillo). Allowed grapes include Viura (Macabeo), Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc as well as Garnacha, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah.

Manuel Manzaneque Suarez

After working for 10 years with his father at the eponymous estate in La Mancha, Manuel Manzaneque Suarez has started both consulting for other wineries and his own project, ¡Ea!. The project is focused on old vine Cencibel (Tempranillo) from La Mancha, one of the regions with the best price to quality ratios in the world. He only sources fruit from old vineyards that offer excellent raw material.

Wine: ¡Ea!

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

Grapes for this wine come from vines which range in age from 40-70 years and are grown in different zones of La Mancha; Las Mesas, Pedroñeras, El Provencio, San Clemente and Villarrobledo. Manuel Manzaneque Suarez uses work with traditional, organic methods and has very low yields of 15 hl/ha. Harvest occurred between September 12 and 30 after a very hot and dry summer. Fermentations proceed with native yeasts after a 4 day cold soak in stainless steel tanks. Following fermentation the wine is aged for 5 months in lightly toasted French and American oak barrels.

2012: “Inky ruby. Black and blue fruits and a smoky quality on the fragrant nose. Lush and open-knit, offering sweet cassis and blueberry flavors that pick up a spicy nuance with air. Shows very good energy on the finish, leaving a sweet floral pastille note behind.”

Priorat D.O.Q.

D.O. The region has produced superb quality wines for more than 8 centuries, starting when Carthusian monks founded a priory or Priorat in 1163. Phylloxera wiped out nearly all of the plantings of grapes at the end of the 19th Century and it wasn't until the 1950's that serious replanting began. The region rocketed to fame in the 1990's as a new generation of winemakers came to the area combining new technology and old vines for superior results. There are only 26 wineries listed with the Consejo Regulador.

Climate: The climate is extreme but continental with cold winters and hot summers. Plantings range from 300 feet to 2,300 feet in elevation.

Soil: The soils based on volcanic bedrock called llicorella, are composed of black and red schist and mica, a kind of quartz. The extremely poor and thin soils force the vines roots deep in search of water and nutrients.

Grape Varieties: The primary grape variety is Garnacha Tinta for reds with small plantings of Garnacha Blanca, Macabeo and Pedro Ximenez for whites. There are also plantings of old vine Cariñena. International grapes were first planted in the early 1980's with Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah dominating new plantings. Vines are generally head pruned, en vaso, and planted on extremely steep slopes or terraces.

Bodegas Los 800

Based in the town of Gratallops, in the hills of Priorato, this winery only sources from old vineyards above 800 meters. Hence the name “the 800s.”

Wine: Los 800

Grapes: 45% Garnacha, 35% Cariñena, 12% Cabernet Sauvignon, 8% Syrah

Fruit for this wine is sourced just from around Gratallops and La Vilella Baixa. After harvest the different varieties are fermented separately. The wine undergoes a long maceration of 24 days between a temperature of 79 to 80° F, followed by the malolactic fermentation. The wine is then aged in French and American oak barrels for 6 months prior blending and bottling.

Genium Cellar

In the year 2002, six families from the municipality of Poboleda (Priorat) with a long tradition in vine growing decided to join their efforts in order to make high quality wines from their own crops. All of them have day jobs outside of the bodega, but share the work in the vineyards and cellar to make the project succeed.

This winery is located in the basement of a house that dates back to 1265, which was the very first settlement of the Carthusian monks of Scala Dei. 15 hectares of vineyards are owned between all of the families. 7 hectares are Costers, 3 hectares of organically farmed vines (Ecologic) and 5 hectares of terraced vines on narrow terraces with two rows of vines each.

The goal of the winery is to produce wines with a typical character of Priorat based on the local Garnacha and Cariñena. Having vineyards in three different zones of Priorat (Poboleda, La Morera del Montsant and Torroja del Priorat) allows for different character, tone, complexity and personality in the wines.

Aging in oak is very important for the style of wine, as without it the wine would seem unfinished, but only light to medium toast is used so that wood flavors do not dominate.

Wine: Genium Ximenis

Grapes: 90% Pedro Ximenez, 10% Others

Produced from old vines, planted on steep terraced vineyards. The hand harvested fruit is fermented in new French oak barrels. Following the initial robust stage of fermentation, the wine is racked with fine lees only and aged for 3 months in the new barrels with batonnage.

2008: 90 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: “Bright yellow. Spicy orchard and pit fruit aromas are complemented by toasty oak spices and lemon rind, with a dusty mineral undertone adding nuance. Fleshy and smooth in the mouth, offering pear and peach flavors, strong herbacity and a refreshingly bitter note of citrus pith. Anise and mineral notes build with air and linger on the long, spicy finish.”

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

2010: “Light, bright gold. High-pitched aromas of lemon zest, jasmine and ginger. Sappy, floral-accented citrus and bitter pear skin flavors show very good depth and a refreshingly tangy quality on the back half. The long finish is dry, clean and precise with a floral nuance.”

Wine: Genium Fresc
Grapes: 80% Garnacha, 20% Carinena

This wine is produced from typical grapes of the region, with the intent of creating a wine similar to that made in the winemaker's youth in Priorat; fresh, expressing the nuance and flavors of Garnacha with a touch of Carinena. The grapes are estate-grown and hand-harvested from vines between 10 and 20 years old. The grapes were fermented in stainless steel tanks between 75 and 78° F with the cap submerged for between 20 and 25 days. The wine was then aged for 3 months in third and fourth fill Allier oak barrels. Bottled unfiltered.

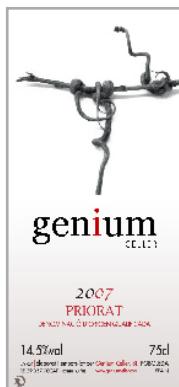

2008: 90 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: "The 2009 Genium Fresc is a blend of 80% Garnacha and 20% Cariñena. Sourced from 10 to 20 year-old vines, and fermented in stainless steel, it is fresh and aromatic with flavors of red berries, herbs and earth. Aged for three months in neutral oak, it has good texture, fine structure, and lasting flavors on the palate."

90 points International Wine Review issue 39, Nov/Dec 2013

"Concentrated and strong on the bouquet, with grit, leather, heat and bold berry aromas. Choppy tannins give the palate a hard feel, while the flavor profile runs warm, baked and sweet, with plum and berry fruit thrown in. Good but a little hard and hot. Just 450 cases made."

88 points The Wine Enthusiast issue 2413, December 15, 2011

Wine: Genium
Grapes: 60% Garnacha, 20% Cariñena, 15% Merlot, and 5% Syrah

The Garnacha and Cariñena grapes are from 90+ year old vines, while Merlot comes from 17 year old vines. The grapes undergo a 48 hour pre-fermentation cold soak followed by temperature controlled fermentation between 84° F to 91° F in small stainless steel vats, and macerated for a 25 day period. Aged in 20% new and 80% 1 year old French Allier oak barrels for 9 months. Unfiltered.

2005: "This blend of old-vine Garnacha and Carinena with Merlot and Syrah shows its meaty side with nearly the same intensity as the Ecologic. Its bold aromas of ripe red fruits have a delicate mineral nuance, a freshness that contrasts flavors of leather and sweet spices. A textbook Priorat to go with slow roasted meats." Best Buy

2007: "The 2007 Genium is composed of 60% Garnacha, 20% Carinena, with the balance Merlot and Syrah. The Garnacha and Carinena were sourced from 90+-year-old vines. It was aged in 20% new French oak for 10 months. Asian spices, incense, balsamic, plum, and blackberry inform the nose of this layered, slightly racy style of Priorat. Juicy, concentrated, and nicely proportioned, it will evolve for 1-2 years and drink well through 2019."

"This is ultraripe and a bit raisiny on the nose, but there are encouraging flashes of schistose minerality and freshness. It feels jammy, full bodied and thick, with a baked black-fruit flavor and notes of licorice and tobacco. Smooth and earthy on the finish, with power to spare."

Wine: Genium Costers

Grapes: 50% Cariñena, 25% Garnacha, 15% Merlot and 10% Syrah

This wine was made from grapes planted on slopes in the region, named "Casters" (dramatically steep land, 45 degrees, where no machine can be used), where the vineyards are practically a hundred years old, a fact that provides a repeatable mineralization, concentration and structure in comparison to other zones. Aged for 12 months in new French Allier oak barrels.

2003: "Its deep ruby/purple color is accompanied by earthy, leathery notes, moderate tannin, and considerable structure and precision. More artisanal in style than its two siblings (no doubt due to the old vine Cariñena), this impressively endowed 2003 should drink well for a decade."

2005: "Inky purple-hued, the nose reveals lots of mineral, earth, and pencil lead as well as fragrant notes of blueberry and black cherry. This leads to a full-bodied, muscular wine with a powerful personality, gobs of layered fruit, enough tannin to support 5-7 years of additional cellaring, terrific intensity, and a very long finish. Drink this superb wine through 2030."

Rias Baixas D.O.

D.O. Rias Baixas is cool and damp completely unlike the rest of Spain. This climate is the perfect situation for Albariño, a rot-resistant, thick-skinned white grape that offers flavors of melons, citrus and tropical fruits. The history of the vine in this region is linked to French monks invited here by King Alfonso 7th. The D.O. was granted in 1988 after several years of concentrated development and replanting to higher quality grapes including Albariño, Loureira and Treixadura. Two new subregions were added to the D.O. in 1996 and 2000, so production is expected to increase over the next decade as new vines come into production.

Climate: The climate is extreme with high winds in portions near the sea, winter frosts, hail storms and Summer temperatures reaching over 100° Fahrenheit. Rainfall is heavy with up to 80 inches a year.

Soil: Soils are granitic sand over mother rock with flat areas richer in organic matter and slopes more poor with less organic matter and lower pH. Traditional vineyards have granite pergolas with the vines trained high off the ground to avoid the damp earth and for better exposure to the sun.

Grape Varieties: Albariño represents over 90% of planted vineyards although there are 12 native grape varieties allowed to be planted here, both white and red. Some new plantings are being trained to double curtain. There are over 1200 acres of organic vineyards, a testament to Albariño rot-resistance.

Adegas Gran Vinum

Adegas Gran Vinum is a family winery owned by Enrique Pineiro. In 1998 the Val do Salnes subregion was added to D.O. Rias Baixas spurring a renewed focus on quality wines. Adegas Gran Vinum reacted by adding new vineyard plots on steep, sandy, south-facing slopes, near the ocean which minimized temperature swings and extended maturation times giving more spice, saline and fruity varietal character to the wines. Soils in the vineyards are enriched in the traditional manner by digging in shells of local mollusks.

Wine: Nessa

Grapes: 100% Albariño

This wine is produced from purchased grapes from vineyards between 10 and 40 years old. Wine maker, Enrique Pineiro works with around 30 small growers in the Val do Salnes sub-region of Rias Baixas, some with holdings as small as half a hectare. All of the fruit for this wine is hand harvested in small boxes. After cluster sorting the grapes are whole-cluster pressed in a pneumatic press, followed by settling of the must with dry ice. The wine was fermented at 64° F in stainless steel tank. The wine does not undergo malolactic fermentation. Aged for almost 2 months on fine lees.

Wine: Esencia Divina
Grapes: 100% Albariño

The grapes for this wine come from three different estate vineyards, averaging 40 years old, grown on the granitic sand of the Val do Salnes sub-region of Rias Baixas. Grapes were hand harvested and saw cool maceration (16-18 degrees C) as whole clusters overnight. The grapes were then pressed in pneumatic press at only moderate pressure to obtain the most aromatic portion of the must. Fermented in stainless steel tanks followed by extended aging on lees prior to bottling.

Wine: Gran Vinum
Grapes: 100% Albariño

This wine is produced from a hillside, single vineyard, Miranda Aurosa, which has sandy and granite soils. The vineyard is worked in the same way as vineyards have been for generations, enriched with clam and cockleshells. The vineyard follows the Galician tradition of using granite posts (like a goal-post) with vines trained in pergolas, to raise them off the ground allowing rain to evaporate more readily, minimizing disease pressure.

The grapes for this wine were hand-harvested and destemmed followed by a 24 hour cryomaceration with dry-ice prior to pressing. The grapes are very gently pressed by bladder press obtaining the most aromatic, free-run portion of juice. The must is settled for 36 hours prior to fermentation in stainless steel tank at 67° F for 22 days. Following alcoholic fermentation the gross lees are settled out and the wine is racked to clean tank. From there the wine sees 6 months aging on fine lees with stirring to emphasize volume and complexity.

2010: 92 points International Wine Cellar Issue 164 Sept/Oct 2012

2012: "Intense, mineral-laced aromas of fresh melon, nectarine and orange, with notes of honey and smoky lees adding complexity. Ribeira Sacra D.O.

Ribeira Sacra is an area in inland Galicia, in Northwestern Spain. The D.O. was created in 1997, even though viticulture was first started by the Romans. Its name "Sacra" or sacred comes from the large number of monasteries and other religious buildings that are located along the steep Mino and Sil river valleys. Religious institutions also replanted a majority of vineyards between the 8th and 12th centuries. The region is subdivided into 5 sub-regions and spans two provinces. The majority of vineyards are planted on steep slopes of the valleys and canyons, with slightly gentler slopes as you near the rivers.

Climate: The region offers elements of both Atlantic influence and Continental character. The Atlantic influence offers cloudy skies and more rain than inland Spain. The continental character impacts temperatures, which tend to be hot in the summer and early autumn.

Soil: The soils that predominate in Campo de Borja are brown limestone and terraced floors, with medium stoniness, good drainage, average levels of organic matter and rich in nutrients. There are also ferrous clay soils on the slopes closer to Moncayo, where stoniness is greater.

Soil: Soils tend to be alluvial (gravel, sand and clay) with underlying slate. There are also some sites with granitic soils or bedrock.

Grape Varieties: Key white grape varieties include Albariño, Godello, Treixadura, and Loureira. Key red grape varieties include Mencía, Merenzao, Brancellao, Garnacha, Tempranillo, and a handful of other local red grapes are also allowed. The majority of production is however composed predominantly of Godello, Albariño and Mencia.

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion's winery partner in Ribeira Sacra owns 20 Hectares of vineyards (~49 acres) in the Amanti subregion. The majority of their vineyards are planted on terraces, locally called bancales, with a South or Southeast orientation. Godello is planted on silica-rich sand over granite bedrock and Mencia is planted on soils composed of slate with decomposed granite. All grapes are hand harvested and are sorted by a four person team prior to pressing/fermentation.

Wine: Adras Godello
Grapes: 100% Godello

The vineyards producing grapes for this wine are planted with 40 year old Godello vines. The soils are composed of silica-rich sand and decomposed granite. Yields are limited through pruning and green harvest to encourage concentration of flavor in the finished wine. Leaves are also pulled during the growing season to ensure good air flow through the canopy as well as encourage ripening of the grapes.

The Godello grapes were harvested in the middle of September into 18 KG boxes and transported to the winery via refrigerated truck. Grape clusters were hand sorted prior to destemming and crushing. Grapes saw a 12 hour cold maceration with dry ice followed by temperature controlled fermentation in stainless steel tanks. Following fermentation the wine was aged on fine lees in tank for 3 months. No malolactic fermentation. Bottled in April 2013.

2013: “Bright, green-tinged straw. Precise, energetic aromas of dried peach and honey, plus hints of white flowers and citrus zest. Taut and sharply focused, with intense minerality underscoring fresh Meyer lemon and pit fruit flavors. Finishes clean, dry and crisp, with excellent clarity and lingering floral character.”

Wine: Adras Mencia
Grapes: 100% Mencia

The vineyards producing grapes for this wine are planted with 40 year old Mencia vines. The soils are composed of slate and decomposed granite. Yields are limited through pruning and green harvest to encourage concentration of flavor in the finished wine. Leaves are also pulled during the growing season to ensure good air flow through the canopy as well as encourage ripening of the grapes.

The Mencia grapes were harvested in the last week of September in 18KG boxes and transported to the winery via refrigerated truck. Grape clusters were hand sorted prior to de-stemming and light crushing. Alcoholic fermentation commenced utilizing native yeast. Extraction of flavors from skins was encouraged by 3 pump overs daily until the end of fermentation. Following malolactic fermentation, also with native microbes, the wine was aged for 4 months in oak barrels. Bottled in April 2013.

2013: “Brilliant ruby-red. High-pitched red and dark berry aromas, along with a minerally element and a suave floral overtone. Offers fresh black raspberry and cherry flavors complemented by suggestions of smoky minerals, anise and sweet vanilla. Supple tannins shape the finish, which leaves gentle oak spice and candied rose notes behind.”

Ribera del Duero D.O.

D.O. As in many regions of Spain the vine was cultivated by the Church. By the 1500's wine based on Tinta del Pais had become the region's main economic product. In the 1650's wineries in Aranda del Duero were said to have produced 6 million liters of wine. Underground tunnels were utilized for temperature control and aging of wine. In 1864 Vega Sicilia was founded with the first vines from Bordeaux being planted in the area. After being granted D.O. in 1982, due largely to the work of Alejandro Fernandez, an explosion of development occurred shifting production from inexpensive rose to top quality red wine.

Climate: Due to the high altitude, 2,300 to 2,750 feet, nighttime temperatures are much lower than day-time temperatures allowing grapes to maintain essential natural acidity. Frost in late Autumn and early Spring is a worry in this area and while rare temperatures can drop as low as -5° Fahrenheit.

Soil: The main growing area is made up of the high plains, steep slopes, shallow slopes and river banks. Most vines are planted on the shallow slopes where chalk and limestone dominate. Clay, marl and sandy soils are also found in the region.

Grape Varieties: Tinta del Pais, the local clone of Tempranillo, makes up 85% of plantings in Ribera del Duero. While Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Malbec are allowed grapes in the blend, they are not permitted to be planted in new vineyards. Garnacha and Albilllo make up the remainder of the vineyards.

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion

Isaac Fernandez Selection is the newest venture of the famous winemaker, Isaac Fernandez, who has spent more than 25 years producing some of the best wines in the Ribera del Duero region. He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Rios de Tinta

Grapes: 100% Tinta del Pais (Tempranillo)

Made exclusively from Tempranillo vines, locally called Tinta del Pais , aged between 15 and 20 years old. The vines are planted in sandy loam with calcareous clay and limestone at an altitude of 850 meters. Fruit from three different vineyards form the wine.

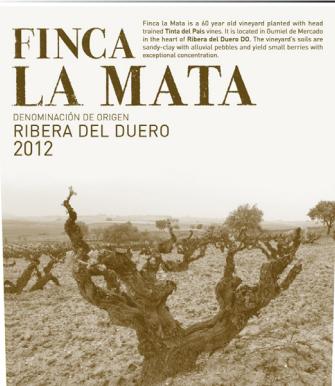

Harvested by hand during the first week of October into 15 kg boxes the grapes were hand sorted, immediately de-stemmed, lightly crushed and moved by gravity to fill 16,000 liter tanks to 80% capacity. The grapes are held at low temperatures for 4 days then, fermentation commences through the action of native yeasts. Fermentation temperatures are kept relatively low looking to emphasize fruit aromas in the finished wine. Maceration lasts between 10 and 12 days with both pump-over and pigeage used to control extract.

2012: "A Ribera del Duero filled with electricity, this wine's vibrant red fruit seems brightly lit from within. It's a great buy, delicious with grilled sausages."

90 points (Year's Best) (Best Buy) Wine & Spirits Magazine Vol.33 issue 3, June 2013

2013: "Deep ruby. Sexy, smoke-accented aromas of black and blue fruits, tobacco and rose. I'd have guessed that this wine saw oak, but it didn't. Fleshy blueberry and cherry compote flavors show good clarity, with a note black pepper adding bite on the back half. Supple tannins come in late and contribute shape to the long, fruit-driven finish. Quite suave, and an outstanding value."

90 points International Wine Cellar Issue 176, Sept/Oct 2014

Wine: Finca la Mata

Grapes: 100% Tinta del Pais (Tempranillo)

Produced from 100% Tinta del Pais vines between 60 to 80 years old planted in a single vineyard with a great variety of soils from clay at the bottom of the slope to gravelly sand at the top. Fruit was hand-harvested into small boxes followed by sorting at the winery and cold soak prior to fermentation. Maceration was only a few days longer than Rios de Tinta. The wine was then aged for 8 months in 225 liter barrels prior to assembling the final blend.

2011: "Simply sumptuous, this wine is filled with luscious fruit flavors enhanced by earthy undertones, and ends with an amazingly long finish. Medium-bodied, it has a supple texture and offers beautiful balance. It's hard to imagine finding a more satisfying red for under $20."

Shows very good depth of fruit but comes off as lithe, finishing with excellent cut and silky, even tannins. These tempranillo vines are between 60 and 80 years old."

Bodegas Los Astrales

Bodega Los Astrales began work at the end of 2000 by the hands of the Romera de la Cruz family – a family with 3 generations of wine growers – who were grape suppliers for other wineries but now they bottle their own production with Eduardo Garcia as Technical Director. Eduardo is the enologist at Mauro, Maurodos (family estates) and partner at Leda and Paixar. After he finished his studies in Bordeaux, he trained at Cos D'Estournel, Hubert Lignier and Ridge.

Astrales owns 15 hectares located in Anguix (120 inhabitants) of which 9 are vineyards of 20 to 70 year old vines. During 2003 and 2004, they planted another 14 hectares of Tempranillo. Vines are grown in vaso form with shorter trunks than in most of Ribera del Duero helping to shield the vines from the wind which contributes to the accumulation of polyphenols and sugars. No chemicals are used in the vineyard beyond sulphur and that only if absolutely necessary.

The focus of the winery is to extract all of the character of old vine, head pruned, organically farmed Tinto Fino. The clay soils and cooler than average microclimate are key to producing wines with excellent balance, length, aromatic complexity and fresh acidity.

Wine: Astrales

Grapes: 100% Tinto Fino

2010 was an excellent vintage with moderate weather after a cold winter and mild spring. There was more abundant rain during the year. A few late frosts lead to irregular veraison. Harvest took place starting on October 7 with dry weather throughout. It was a long and relatively mild season with gradual ripening. Yields averaged 4,000 kg/ha.

Native yeast, relatively short macerations, and pumping over as opposed to punch downs, are key in maintaining all the fruit character and getting the highest bouquet intensity. Movement of the grapes proceeds by gravity throughout the winery with the goal of avoiding a rough extraction of tannins. The wine was aged 20 months in 80% French oak barrels and 20% American, 30% of which were new.

Bodegas Penalba Herraiz

Winemaker, Miguel Ángel Peñalba Martínez, has lived in Ribera del Duero for his whole life. He studied Chemistry, winemaking and business and has been the vineyard manager for over 250 hectares of grapes for more than 10 years. The wine Carravid is made at a friend's winery in his own tanks. Grapes are sourced for the most part from vines aged more than 60 years, that produce small yields of less than 20 HL/hectare. All of the grapes are sourced from villages around Aranda del Duero. None of the vineyards are treated with fungicides or any anti-microbial. Grapes are harvested into small boxes so that they arrive to the winery intact and in the best possible quality.

Wine: Aptus

Grapes: 100% Tinta del País

This wine is made from fruit grown on vines averaging 15 years of age, planted in sandy soils with a layer of clay at the surface. The vines are farmed organically, but are not certified. Grapes from these vineyards were among the last harvested in Ribera del Duero. The grapes were lightly crushed and destemmed prior to alcoholic fermentation in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks. The wine saw malolactic fermentation half in stainless steel and half in oak barrels. The different lots were aged in used French and used central European oak barrels for 12 months prior to assemblage.

2009: 92 points Wine Review Online April 10, 2012 - Michael Franz

2010: 90 points International Wine Cellar issue 164 Sept/Oct 2012

2011: "Dark ruby. Sexy aromas of cherry-cola, blackberry and floral pastilles. Fleshy and seamless in the mouth, offering sweet black and blue fruit flavors and a touch of spicecake. Finishes smooth and seamless, with a note of candied rose."

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 170 Sept/Oct 2013

Wine: Carravid

Grapes: 90% Tinta del País (Tempranillo), 10% Garnacha and Graciano

This wine comes from 60 year old Tinta del País vines grown from a number of small villages in the heart of Ribera del Duero. None of the plots are subjected to anti-fungal treatments of any kind. Yields are less than 20 hectoliters/hectare. There are also small amounts of Garnacha, for added floral tones and Graciano for additional acidity. Miguel typically pushes for later harvests than some other producers looking for ripe phenolics in grapes skins, minimized herbaceous tones and properly ripened pips.

The wine underwent alcoholic fermentation in two separate batches in stainless steel with temperature control. One lot used indigenous yeasts and the other was inoculated with yeast selected for high expression wines. The batches were then blended and racked to French oak barrels (50% new and 50% 1 year old from the Tronçais, Fontainebleau, Vosges and Compiegne forests) for malolactic fermentation. The wine aged for 12 months in French oak.

2006: "Smoky cherry and cassis aromas are energized by minerals and fresh rose. Clean and brisk, offering energetic dark fruit flavors and nervy mineral bite. Fleshes out with air, picking up ripe cherry and bitter berry skin qualities. Impressively lively and precise, finishing with slow-building tannins and youthful grip. This should be held for another couple of years."

Bodegas Arrocal

Located in Gumiel de Mercado a small village in the western portion of the Ribera del Duero D.O., the winery produced its first wine in 2001. The vineyards were planted by the owners and a new winery was built and utilized for the 2005 vintage. The young estate vines are trained espalier in a Smart system and are drip irrigated.

Wine: Arrocal
Grapes: 100% Tinto Fino

Grapes were hand harvested in beginning of October with very good maturity. Grapes were destemmed but not crushed prior to fermentation in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks. The skins were macerated for 10 days prior to pressing. The wine was racked to 70% French and 30% American oak barrels for 6 months aging. Bottled without filtration after a gentle egg-white fining.

2007: 90 points Wine & Spirits June 2010

2008: 90 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2010: "Vivid ruby. Aromas of candied cherry, vanilla and mocha, with a smoky nuance in the background. Deep red and dark berry flavors show very good energy and silky texture, with a peppery quality adding lift. Finishes smooth and long, with gentle tannins and persistent sweetness. This wine is already drinking well but has the concentration to age."

90 points International Wine Cellar Issue 164, Sept/Oct 2012

2011: "Bright purple. An expressive bouquet evokes black and blue fruit preserves, star anise, mocha and fresh flowers. Sweet blueberry and boysenberry flavors show very good depth and energy, with a subtle peppery note adding lift and bite. The finish is focused and long, ending on a note of bitter cherry."

90 points International Wine Cellar Issue 164, Sept/Oct 2012

Wine: Arrocal Selección
Grapes: 100% Tinto Fino

Grapes are hand harvested, destemmed but not crushed, macerated for 14 days in temperature controlled tanks followed by aging in 80% French and 20% American oak barrels for 15 months. Bottled without filtration after a gentle egg-white fining.

2009: 90 points The Wine Enthusiast issue 2708 September 2014

2010: "This graceful red shows black cherry, licorice, mineral and toast flavors in a polished texture, with firm tannins and crisp acidity. The solid structure yields to floral and spicy notes on the clean finish. Drink now through 2022."

91 points Wine Spectator issue 3908, October 2014

2011: "It is quite showy and attractive with balsamic notes of cola nut, quite marked by the oak. But it has enough intensity of fruit to keep the oak in the background, both in nose and palate. The tannins are polished and plump, and there seems to be enough acidity. It feels remarkably fresh for a warm vintage like 2011. Well done!"

RIBERA DEL DUERO

Wine: Angel de Arrocal
Grapes: 100% Tinto Fino

Produced from the 70 year old, “El Portillo” vineyard planted by the owner’s grandfather, Angel. Grapes were grown organically (not certified) and yielded only 2,000 kg/hectare. The grapes were hand harvested and vinified with native yeasts in 3,000 liter stainless steel tanks. The wine spent 20 days on the skins prior to pressing. Press fractions were aged separately. The wine spent 20 months in new French oak barrels, with a final selection of only 8 barrels to be bottled as this wine, followed by a further 12 months aging in the bottle before release.

2006: 92+ points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: “Vivid Ruby. Seductively perfumed bouquet displays spicy dark berries and flowers complicated by smoky minerals, vanilla and allspice. Pliant blackberry and cherry-cola flavors are impressively fresh, becoming denser and spicier in the glass. At once rich and vivacious, finishing with excellent clarity and gently tannic persistence.”

92 points International Wine Cellar issue 170 Sept/Oct 2013

2010: “Bright purple. Sexy, highly perfumed scents of boysenberry, vanilla, Indian spices and mocha are lifted by a zesty mineral quality. Smooth, expansive and appealingly sweet, conveying a light touch to its ripe dark berry and floral pastille flavors. Dusty, slow-building tannins add focus to the long, juicy, floral finish. An hour or so of air makes this sexy wine very approachable.”

92 points International Wine Cellar issue 176 Sept/Oct 2014

RIBERA DEL DUERO

Wine: Maximo de Arrocal
Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This is only the third vintage for Maximo, sourced from a single parcel of grapes called El Portillo which was planted by Moises’s grandfather 70 years ago. The plot is only 4.5 acres which yielded less than one ton per acre in 2006. The name Maximo has a history for the family as it is the name of Rosa’s (wife of Moises) father, who both loves wine and helped the couple in the vineyards and with building the winery.

Winemaker Isaac Fernandez selected 100% new French Radoux Blend with medium plus toast for the first aging of the wine, after 12 months in oak the wine was racked to 100% brand new Radoux blend barrels for an additional 14 months of aging. The final blend was assembled from the very best 4 barriques and then bottled unfiltered.

2005: “it offers up a classy bouquet of pain grille, leather, lavender, elderberry, blackberry, and incense. Dense and layered on the palate, spice notes emerge along with a hint of black licorice. It has plenty of tannin and the fruit to match. This balanced effort merits 5-7 years of cellaring and will be at its best from 2015 to 2030.”

93+ points Wine Advocate issue 183 June ‘09

2009: “The palate is full-bodied, with nerve and acidity, and is lively, with marked, chalky minerality toward the finish. With time it opens up and reveals a balsamic character. This feels like higher-altitude wine, as it keeps good freshness and tension for a warm, ripe vintage like 2009. Big and ripe, a great example of powerful Ribera. The wine keeps its power and character even after a couple of days open. Only 1,000 bottles produced. Drink now-2020.”

Wine: Arrocal Christina
Grapes: 100% Tinto Fino

This special cuvee was produced from hand harvested, 70-80 year old vines grown around the village of La Horra. The grapes were manually sorted prior to fermentation in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks. Malolactic fermentation took place in new French oak barrels. Aged for 22 months in new French oak. Unfiltered.

This wine is a special cuvee created to commemorate the birth Aurelio's daughter Christina.

2005: "Purple-hued, it has an enticing perfume of pain grille, pencil lead, mineral, blackberry, floral notes, and licorice. Layered, bordering on opulent, it has excellent depth and breadth of flavor, well-concealed tannin, and 3-5 years of aging potential."

92 points Wine Advocate issue 175 February '08

"Lush and sweet but pure, with energetic dark berry, cherry-cola and piquant mineral flavors. Combines depth and energy with a deft hand, finishing with impressive clarity, gentle grip and persistence... raised in all new French oak barrels but the wood is barely noticeable."

92 points International Wine Cellar issue 139 July/Aug '08

"A polished mix of balance and power, this red offers blackberry, espresso, mineral and tobacco flavors on a firm, smooth structure. It has the dark, loamy notes typical of the region, with bright, juicy fruit and plenty of toasty oak."

93 points Wine Spectator November 30, '08

Wine: Rosa de Arrocal
Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This wine reflects the flavor and spirit of Arrocal. Its taste is crispy and fruity. Grapes for this wine were hand-harvested into 16 kg boxes in the first week of September and were carried to the winery in 3,000 kg trailers. Maceration took place 3-4 days at low temperature. Once the wine acquired the desired color and aroma, it was bled off for the start of the alcoholic fermentation at low temperatures controlled using water showers.

2012: "It has plenty of crisp raspberry leaf and strawberry aromas on the nose. The palate is also jam-packed full of bright red cherry fruit, crisp acidity and pleasing weight on the finish. This is a nice little rose wine."

2013: "Lurid pink. High-pitched redcurrant and strawberry scents, with hints of licorice, white pepper and pink grapefruit in the background. Dry and tightly focused on the palate, with bitter cherry and citrus pith flavors becoming fleshier with aeration. At once nervy and ample, this wine finishes with good lift, cut and spicy persistence. Don't let the dark color fool ya, as Billy Dee Williams would say if he were pitching this wine."

Rioja D.O.Ca

D.O. Wine was likely grown here by the Romans with the first modern boom in production happening in the 1860's as merchants from Bordeaux arrived after outbreaks of vine diseases in France. Along with trade to France, the merchants also brought the idea of aging wine in small oak barrels giving rise to traditionally styled, oxidized wines. Rioja was the first region in Spain to gain status as a D.O. in 1925. Recently, in the 1960's and 70's, style shifted to wines with a combination of ripe fruit and unctuous oak followed more recently by a trend to produce intense, concentrated "modern" wines with less time in the bottle but plenty of new oak. In 1991 the region was elevated to a D.O. Calificada, one of only two regions to gain that status, which recognizes the quality and consistency of products from the region.

Climate: Rioja is sheltered to the north by the Cantabrian mountains and to the south by Sierra de la Demanda, leading to a moderate climate. The annual rainfall averages around 17 inches.

Soil: Rioja is subdivided into three zones, Rioja Baja, Rioja Alavesa and Rioja Alta. In the Baja alluvial soils (sand) and clay predominate, in the Alavesa limestone and clay predominate, and in the Alta limestone, clay and alluvial soils are present.

Grape Varieties: Four red grapes are allowed in the D.O. with Tempranillo comprising 65% of all plantings, the other allowed red grapes include Graciano, Mazuelo (Cariñena), and Garnacha. Three white grapes are allowed, Viura, Malvasia, and Garnacha Blanca.

Union de Viticultores Riojanos

This winery is run by third generation winegrowers. The current owners' grandfather started working in wine in 1910. Vineyards range in age from 30 to 55+ years old. Fruit comes from a combination of estate grown fruit and fruit grown under contract and winery direction from two distinct areas within Rioja Alta. All fruit is hand harvested. The current winery was built in 1989 incorporating stainless steel tanks and refrigeration. Their cellars have storage for over 50,000 cases of wine.

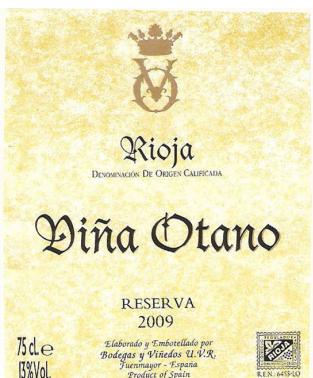

Wine: Viña Otano Crianza

Grapes: 90% Tempranillo 10% Mazuelo

All grapes were hand harvested into small baskets for transport to the winery. The detemmed grapes were fermented and macerated with skins for 25 days with a twice a day pump-over. Following malolactic fermentetion in stainless steel tanks, the wine was aged for 1 year in American and French oak barrels.

2011: "Ruby-red. Complex aromas of red berries, cherry, spicecake, rose oil and smoky minerals. Delicate red berry and floral pastille flavors show a pinot-like quality, with a mineral note adding lift. This nicely balanced, pure Rioja finishes silky, seamless and long, with barely perceptible tannins."

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 176, Sept/Oct 2014

Wine: Viña Otano Reserva

Grapes: 85% Tempranillo 10% Graciano 5% Mazuelo

All grapes were hand harvested into small baskets for transport to the winery. The detemmed grapes were fermented and macerated with skins for 30 days with twice a day pump-overs that last approximately one hour per tank. Following malolactic fermentetion in stainless steel tanks, the wine was aged for 24 months in French and American oak barrels with racking every 6 months. Aged a further 30 months in bottle before release.

2009: "Bright ruby-red. Deep, smoky aromas of blackberry, cherry, pipe tobacco, coconut and mocha. Sweet and silky in texture, offering open-knit red fruit compote flavors complicated by subtle baking spice and smoke flourishes. Finishes very long and gently tannic, with lingering red fruits and spices."

91 points International Wine Cellar issue 176, Sept/Oct 2014

"This is a completely, gulp-ably delicious wine that also shows real complexity and class...for $22...this 2009 Reserva is very soft and immediate in its appeal, with lovely soft fruit and very broad texture for a five year-old Rioja Reserva...Nevertheless, there's a lot going on underneath all that soft fruit, with nice spice and smoke notes, as well as a subtle accent of cured meat. This would be perfect with medium-weight dishes such as chicken, pork, duck or veal."

2001: “Deep red. Exotic, oak-spiced red berry liqueur and dried cherry aromas are complemented by a smoky overtone. Sweet and pliant in texture, with a velvety texture to its plush raspberry, cherry-vanilla and coconut flavors. Shows no rough edges and becomes smokier and spicier with air, finishing with very good clarity, a hint of allspice and round tannins.”

91 points International Wine Cellar issue 176, Sept/Oct 2014

“Medium-bodied, with good color that shows no amber at the edge, it offers complex aromas that still show primary fruit notes along with some subtly smoky oak and interesting earthy undertones that have developed from time in bottle. The balance of fruit, wood and tannin is just right, and the finish is long and symmetrical as it tails off... I’ve scored this conservatively in light of the high probability that it will get even better with time.”

Bodegas Vinicola Real

This Bodega was started in 1992 by master distiller and winemaker, Miguel Ángel Rodríguez. The cellars are located in the village of Albelda de Iregua in Rioja Alta. They have a total of 25 hectares of vineyards in 4 different zones of Rioja Alta. Traditional, chemical-free viticulture is practiced, all grapes are harvested by hand and sorted again at the winery on a sorting table prior to crushing and fermentation.

Wine: Vina los Valles

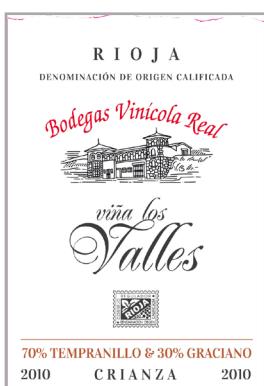

Grapes: 90% Tempranillo, 10% Garnacha

Hand-harvested into 15 Kilo tubs for transport to the winery. Vines average 25 years old for this cuvee. Grapes are nearly completely destemmed prior to fermentation in stainless steel tanks. Alcoholic fermentations range between 80 and 88° F. Malolactic fermentations also are undertaken in stainless steel tanks. This wine was aged for 4 months in oak barrels.

2009: 88 points International Wine Cellar issue 152 Sept/Oct 2010

2011: "Vivid ruby. Bright, floral aromas of red berries and cherry. Smooth and fruity on the palate, offering lively raspberry and violet pastille flavors that show an appealingly jammy character. Finishes supple and broad, with plump red fruit notes. This is ready to drink, and I'd do so while the fruit is to the fore."

89 points International Wine Cellar issue 170 Sept/Oct 2013

Wine: Vina los Valles Crianza

Grapes: 70% Tempranillo, 30% Graciano

Grapes for this wine are also harvested into 15 kilo tubs. Vines average a minimum of 25 years of age. Grapes were only partially destemmed prior to fermentation in 50 hectoliter oak vats. Malolactic fermentation took place in new American oak barrels. The wine was aged for 15 months in a combination of 60% French and 40% American oak barrels, followed by a further 9 months aging in bottle prior to release.

Wine: Cueva del Monge Blanco
Grapes: 70% Viura, 20% Malvasia, 10% Garnacha and Moscatel

Grapes for this wine are grown in highest and coldest plots of Rioja Alta producing very aromatic grapes. There is a special variety of moscatel planted in several of the oldest plots, due to the tradition that Moscatel was used by the ancient winegrowers for drying for their own consumption as raisins around Christmas.

The grapes are lightly crushed and destemmed prior to being held in stainless steel tanks for 24 hours for skin contact and aroma extraction. The must is then drained and skins are lightly bladder pressed followed by static fining of the must. 20% of the early harvested fruit was fermented in stainless steel tanks. The remaining 80% of the wine was racked to new barrels for fermentation lasting between 30 and 40 days with daily batonnage. Following fermentation the wine was racked and returned to barrels for a further 2 1/2 months of barrel aging. Total time in barrel for 2007: 4 months.

2010: "It is a ripe and fragrant with a floral and mineral nose and a hint of ginger and a creamy smooth palate of sweet fruit. It is pure, dense, and focused on the finish."

91 points International Wine Review issue 43, July/August 2014

"Pale gold. High-pitched, mineral-laced citrus fruit and floral aromas are complemented by notes of anise and vanilla. Ripe pear and orange flavors are joined by a smoky note with aeration. Finishes tangy and long, with lingering spiciness and firm minerality."

Wine: Cueva del Monge Tinto
Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This wine is produced through a selection of best plots of Tempranillo from the winery's extensive vineyards. 2008 started with a mild winter with abundant rainfalls. The summer was dry and by August it was possible to determine that ripening would be delayed. The weather provided a long harvest starting in late September and running into early November. The grapes came in very clean but with lower yields than in other recent vintages.

The grapes were destemmed and lightly crushed prior to fermentation in oak vats. Fermentation lasted 12 days at 82° F. Malolactic fermentation was undertaken in oak barrels followed by 12 months of aging in a combination of 50% each French and American oak barrels.

Wine: 200 Monges Reserva

Grapes: 85% Tempranillo, 10% Graciano, 5% Mazuelo

This is produced from the strictest selection of grapes in the winery. Depending on lignification of stems, grapes are either partially or fully de-stemmed prior to fermentation. The grapes were fermented for 11 days in French Allier oak vats followed by a 25 days post-fermentation maceration looking to increase the amount of noble tannin in the finished wine. Aged for a minimum of 18 months in oak barrels. The barrels are from different origins in France as well as America. The wine spends another 18 months aging in the bottle prior to release for sale. This wine is bottled unfiltered.

The winery is based in the town of Huercanos, Rioja Alta and was established in 1962. The majority, 90%, of the winery's plantings are to Tempranillo.

Wine: Campellares

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This wine is sourced from vines averaging 50 years of age. Traditional production methods are used; de-stemming and lightly crushing the fruit, followed by 3-5 days of pre-fermentation maceration. Fermented in stainless steel tanks at moderate rather than high temperatures looking for more finesse in the tannin structure of the finished wine. After pressing malolactic fermentation takes place in stainless steel as well, followed by aging in tanks for a few months prior to bottling.

Bodegas y Vinedos Pujanza

Bodegas y Vinedos Pujanza was established in 1998 by Carlos San Pedro, a fifth generation grape grower and third generation winemaker. In 2001, the winery introduced its first wine, Pujanza. Carlos San Pedro considers himself to be a vine-grower, conscious of the fact that his work has an aim which is the creation of great wines. This idea was the starting point for a young winery that wants to reflect this vitality in its wines. Carlos' philosophy is to transmit to his wines all the character and personality of the soil/terroir. This philosophy hinges on careful tending of the vineyards from pruning to harvest as well as the unique characteristic of a higher iron content in the soils of the vineyards.

Wine: Pujanza Hado

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

Produced from estate grown fruit from vines between 20 and 35 years old. The vineyards all lie above 600 meters in elevation and are composed of chalky clay. The grapes are hand harvested and see a 5 day pre-fermentation maceration. Alcoholic fermentation takes place in 15,000 L stainless steel tanks and undergoes 4 pump-overs per day. Following alcoholic fermentation the skins see a further 20 post fermentation maceration. The wine was aged for 12 months in French oak barrels, half second fill and half third fill, prior to bottling.

2009: 90 points Wine Advocate issue 195 June 2011

2010: "Deep ruby. Pungent cherry, plum and currant aromas are joined by suggestions of dried flowers, licorice and espresso. Deep and rich on the palate, with nicely concentrated redcurrant, cherry pit and bitter chocolate flavors. Supple tannins add shape to the sweet, broad, persistent finish."

90 points International Wine Cellar issue 164 September/October 2012

Wine: Pujanza

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

2009 was a vintage of extremes with a very rainy winter from November to February and a hot and very dry summer. Rains from 16-18 September prevented over-ripening and allowed harvest to commence on October 7 and finish the 29th. This wine is produced from fruit grown in the 40+ year old, 15 hectare Valdepoleo vineyard at 630 meters altitude. This vineyard surrounds the winery and is located just outside of La Guardia. Fermented in small stainless steel tanks with daily pump overs at temperatures between 29 and 32° C. Grapes skins see post-fermentation maceration for an additional 7-10 days. Following malolactic fermentation the wine is aged for 16 months in French oak, 1/3 of which are new. After bottling the wine is aged for a few more months prior to release.

2007: 91 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: "The nose is well-defined with mineral-rich, Dorset plum and raspberry leaf aromas that handle the oak well. The palate is medium-bodied with fine tannins on the entry. It is not a powerful 2009, but it offers race and tension, especially towards its tense finish that has a long tail of sappy brambly black fruit with a dash of white pepper. It is primal and probably needs another year to coalesce in bottle. Drink 2013-2019."

Wine: Pujanza Norte

Grapes: 60% Tempranillo and 40% Garnacha, Graciano, and Mazuelo

Produced from fruit grown in the 24 year old, 2.2 hectare El Norte vineyard which was planted by Carlos San Pedro, wine maker as a teenager. At 680 meters altitude, this is one of the highest vineyards in Rioja Alavesa, with more stones in the clay/lime soil than lower elevation vineyards, yielding 25 hectoliters/hectare. Destemmed grapes see a 5 day pre-fermentation cold soak followed by alcoholic and malolactic fermentation in large French oak vat. Skins are macerated for a total of 30 days prior to pressing. The wine is then aged for 18 months in 100% new Allier and Troncais French oak barrels. Bottled unfiltered.

2007: 94 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2009: "There's plenty of vanilla and oak toast in the aromas, and some added grip in the finish from wood tannins, but the fruit predominates in the wine's performance at every stage, showing lovely notes of ripe red cherries and black plums. Sufficiently structured to develop positively for years of cellaring but thoroughly enjoyable already"

94 points Wine Review Online May 21, 2013

2010: "It has an introspective, broody bouquet with notes of blackberry, licorice and crushed violet that display great clarity. The palate is medium-bodied with fine, structured tannins and a crisp citric thread of acidity that lends it tension. It builds gently in the mouth towards a mineral-rich finish, the personification of terroir-driven Rioja. Drink now-2020."

94 points Wine Advocate issue 202, August 2012

Wine: Pujanza Cisma

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

Produced from fruit grown in the 100+ year old, 0.7 hectare La Valcavada vineyard at 550 meters altitude. The old vines yield small clusters of fruit with very small berries, thus insuring a high degree of aromatic and polyphenolic intensity in the must. Yield is ~13 hectoliters/hectare. Harvested by hand and cluster sorted at the winery. Alcoholic fermentation was undertaken in 1700 liter French oak vat and followed by post-fermentation maceration of the skins. Malolactic fermentation took place in new French oak barrels followed by 18 months aging, also in French oak barrels.

2004: "Inky ruby. Exotic, deep, powerful aromas of ripe cherry, plum, spice-cake, licorice and dark chocolate. Thick and rich, with an almost oily texture and immense concentration of superripe dark fruits, wild spices and herbs. For such an outsized wine this has remarkable energy and lift, especially with some aeration. Finishes viscous and very long, almost liqueur-like in texture as well as flavor impact."

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion

Isaac Fernandez Selection is the newest venture of the famous winemaker, Isaac Fernandez, who has spent more than 25 years producing some of the best wines in the Ribera del Duero region. He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Pingao

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This wine is produced from old, bush-vines of Tempranillo grown at 2,300 feet of elevation in the sub-region of Rioja Alta. The vines are planted in sloping vineyards on calcerous-clay soils. The grapes were hand-harvested in early October and were fermented in stainless steel tanks, followed by a few months of aging in oak barrels, keeping a balance between fresh fruit flavors and complexity from oak.

2013: “Bright ruby. Zesty redcurrant and dried cherry aromas are complicated by fresh rose and black pepper. Firm, focused and juicy, offering vibrant, refreshingly bitter-edged cherry and redcurrant flavors. Brisk and persistent on the finish, which is firmed by smooth, even tannins. Surprisingly drinkable for its age, but there’s plenty of zesty acidity here to suggest that it could handle a couple more years of bottle age.”

Rueda D.O.

D.O. The wines from Rueda won wide renown in the 1700's thanks to clarification using local clay which made the wines especially clear and long lived. Rioja producer Marques de Riscal started a new venture in the area in 1972 engendering a start of new plantings and focus on quality leading to D.O. status being granted in 1980.

Climate: The climate is continental and windy with occasional hail, fog and frosts. The summer is long and warm but not as hot as the majority of the interior. Evenly spaced rain throughout the growing season will often lead to an excellent quality vintage.

Soil: Range from decomposed limestone alluvial soils in the north near the Duero River to brown, sandy soils with clay and sandstone subsoils in the south of the region.

Grape Varieties: Verdejo (52 % of vineyards), Viura (22.5% of vineyards) and Sauvignon Blanc comprise the allowed white grapes while Tempranillo, Garnacha, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot are the allowed red grapes. Palomino is widely planted and allowed in the wines but no new plantings are permitted.

He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Egeo Verdejo
Grapes: 100% Verdejo

This wine is produced by Isaac Fernandez in partnership with a winery whose modern day operations began in 1941. The winery is located in the heart of Rueda just south of the Duero river and has over 80 hectares of vineyards. After harvesting the grapes are destemmed and undergo a pre-crush cold maceration for several hours. A gentle press is followed by a slow, cool temperature controlled fermentation (max temperature is 17° C) in stainless steel tanks. This cool fermentation maintains vibrant fruit aromas in the finished wine.

2011: 88 points International Wine Cellar Issue 164, Sept/Oct 2012

2012: “Very few bottlings of Verdejo at any price can out-perform this one, but odds are very slim that any example at this price will show comparable complexity and overall quality. It features expressive aromas of dried herbs and freshly cut grass followed by zesty citrus flavors. Although it is light enough to dance with a delicate partner such as a raw oyster, it delivers enough flavor from its light profile to stand up to many fin fish and chicken dishes.”

Bodegas Pedro Escudero

The Escudero family and patriarch Pedro in particular are recognized as being some of the very best grape growers in all of Rueda. He is often approached by neighbors looking for advice about vineyard issues. They have only been bottling wine since 2002, though they had been growing and selling grapes for a number of years prior. The family owns a vineyard planted with 32 Ha. of Verdejo and 2 Ha. of Viura. The name of the vineyard is "Fuente Elvira" and the soil, which consists of gravel and sand over a red clay sub-soil, has some of the most highly regarded soils in the Rueda district. They farm all of their plots with organic practices.

Wine: Fuente Milano
Grapes: 50% Viura, 50% Verdejo

This wine is produced with 45 year old vine Viura and Verdejo from 15 year old vines. Grapes underwent cold maceration for 2 hours and were then lightly bladder pressed to extract the free run juice. The wine (must) underwent slow alcoholic fermentation or 20 days. Afterwards, it aged in stainless steel vats with its lees for several weeks. Stabilization and light filtration occurred before bottling.

2013: "With minerally, clean aromas of lemon-lime and seashell, this is ready for summer sipping. A tangy, citric palate offers pure orange, tangerine and lime flavors, with mango thrown in for moderate sweetness. A citrusy, cleansing palate is exactly as it should be."

88 points Best Buy Wine Enthusiast Issue 2706, July 2014

"Silky and open-knit, offering juicy orange and pit fruit flavors and a hint of tarragon. A suggestion of honey rounds out the finish, which clings with good persistence."

Wine: Fuente Milano Semiseco
Grapes: 100% Verdejo

Produced from 100% estate grown Verdejo vines. Fruit was hand harvested prior to pressing in horizontal pneumatic press. This wine is partially fermented in stainless steel tanks and partially in French and American oak casks. Bottled in February 2010. Residual sugar: 7 grams/liter.

2009: "Pale greenish gold. Dusty, herb-accented aromas of lemon and lime, with a touch of chalkiness. Light-bodied, brisk citrus flavors become fleshier in the middle palate, offering a pliant orchard fruit quality. Finishes with good stony cut and lingering citrus character."

Terra Alta D.O.

D.O. Located in southern Catalonia, Terra Alta is situated in rolling hill country. Until recently, due largely to its geographical isolation, Terra Alta primarily produced wine for its own local market, and it continues to preserve a variety of traditional winemaking methods. The first vineyards were most likely established during Roman times when a road from Zaragoza to Tortosa cut through this area. In medieval times the Knights Templar also planted vines in Terra Alta, but the distance from local markets and ports led to their replacement by olive trees. Until phylloxera destroyed the vineyards the area was renowned for its 'amber blanc' oxidized wines. Today's vineyards were planted largely in the 1920's-50's. Cooperatives, many of which only began to bottle in the last two decades, played an important role in this rebirth of winemaking.

Climate: A mix of Mediterranean and continental with hot summers and very cold winters and an average yearly rainfall of 16 inches. The Cierzo, a dry wind from the Ebro valley plays a key part in keeping the vines and their fruit healthy.

Soil: Limestone and clay, with low organic content. A considerable portion is made up of larger elements that provide aeration and drainage for the vines.

Grape Varieties: The primary varieties for whites are Garnacha Blanca, Parellada, Macabeo, Moscatel and Chardonnay. The main red varieties are Cariñena, Garnacha Tinta, Garnacha Peluda, Morenillo, Syrah, Cabernet-Sauvignon, Merlot and Tempranillo.

Bodegas Abanico

Las Colinas del Ebro are a new line of wines inspired by the high altitude vines near the river Ebro, one of the great rivers of Europe and a profound influence on the landscape and history of northern Spain. Because of its strategic importance, the towns and hills of the Ebro staged the bloodiest battles of the Spanish civil war in the summer of 1938 and any visit to this region in southern Catalonia leaves one with an indelible sense of those tragic events. More cheerfully, this area is now a hot-spot for quality wine production and gastronomic creativity.

The team responsible for these new wines are managing director of Bodegas Abanico, Rafael de Haan and technical director of Celler Batea, Luis Martin. They believe that the D.O. Terra Alta has a bright future as a region for quality wines and that the 2006 vintage was the right moment to start this new project.

For both the white and red wines there was a search for vines aged over 100 years for the Garnacha and more than 30 years for the Syrah. Rigorous care of vineyards and small yields of flavourful grapes yields wines of the highest quality with a fruity, modern character which are still representative of their origin.

Wine: Las Colinas del Ebro Garnacha Blanca

Grapes: 100% Garnacha Blanca

Fruit was sourced from vines between 20 and 40+ years old and was hand harvested, de-stemmed and lightly crushed prior to pressing. The must was cold-settled and a portion of must that had been macerated with the skins for 12 hours was added prior to fermentation for additional complexity. Fermented in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks.

Tierra de Leon D.O.

D.O. Tierra de León D.O. was created in July of 2007, but the existence of a characteristic grape and wines variety in this area come from the Roman Era. The production area, with around 3.500 km², is situated on the south of León and part of the north of Valladolid provinces. It is under the influence of Esla and Cea riverside. 34 wineries and 500 wine-growers are accepted in the protected Designation of Origin. The Prieto Picudo grape is the most characteristic grape of this area and is known for its conical bunches.

Climate: The area has a continental climate (long, hot dry summers; cold winters). Temperatures in winter often fall below 0° C and there is frequent frosts and fog.

Soil: Soils are located on alluvial terraces, with brown rocky deposits and soft limestone materials.

Grape Varieties: Prieto Picudo is perhaps one of Spain's most interesting varietals with small, compact bunches it is particularly resistant to drought. It is an aromatic grape with good acidity and full fruit flavours and is equally suited to making young wines as well as wines for ageing. In blends it is often combined with Mencia, especially when used for making rosé wines, where the DO regulations state that the blend must be made up of at least 60% of Prieto Picudo or Mencia. White grapes varieties grown in the DO include Verdejo, Albarin, and Godello.

Bodegas Margón

Bodegas Margón is the result of the passion that has moved the Martínez and González families, to produce high quality wines with the Prieto Picudo variety. All of their estate grown, old vineyards are located in the village of Pajares de Los Oteros within the new D.O. Tierra de León.

Under the brand PRICUM, they produce white and red wines, made with grapes from their hundred year old vineyards, cared and fussed over as their ancestors did. During the harvest all their bush vines are hand harvested. Raul Perez is the manager and winemaker for this project. He has become one of the most international recognized winemakers from the northwest of Spain.

They focus especially on allowing the maximum expression and quality of the Prieto Picudo variety. As such they received harvested grapes to a cooling room at the top of the winery. This permits the raw material to access the tanks by gravity and with the best temperature conditions. Fermentation occurs in French oak vats instead of conventional stainless steel tanks. A great selection of french tonnelieres in the cave allows to additional structure of oak to balance the power of the Prieto Picudo grapes.

2007 was the first vintage for the winery and the wines are brand new to the North American Market.

"The Pricum wines are produced by Bodegas Margon who specialize in working with Prieto Picudo, an indigenous variety that has been winning significant attention recently. The wines are made by none other than Raul Perez"
Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

Wine: Pricum Albarin Barrica

Grapes: 100% Albarin

This wine is made from a nearly lost white grape varietal, native to the northwest inland regions of Valladolid and Asturias, Albarin. The vineyard is 60 years old and yields only 16 Hectoliters/Hectare. All of the grapes are hand harvested from bush vines and sorted again at the winery prior to processing. The grapes were destemmed and then left for cold maceration with skins. The pressed must was fermented in temperature controlled wood vats with native yeasts. Malolactic occurred in oak barrels. The wine was then aged for a further 7 months in oak barrels. The wine was clarified with egg white and lightly filtered prior to bottling.

2008: "Exotic scents of singed orange, pear skin, fresh fig and honey, plus a hint of dried flowers. Sappy, palate-staining citrus and orchard fruit flavors are perked up by tangy minerality and become spicier with air. Blends richness and vivacity smoothly and finishes long, with an echo of bitter pear skin."

91 points International Wine Cellar issue 152 Sept/Oct 2010

2010: "Bright yellow-gold. Intense, smoke-accented aromas of pear skin, melon, lime and white flowers, with a leesy complexity. Sappy, penetrating and deep in orchard and citrus fruit flavors, with slow-building spiciness and a touch of candied ginger. Finishes sweet, smoky and very long, with lingering floral and vanilla notes and excellent clarity. This wine reminded me of something made by the late Didier Dagueneau."

TIERRA DE LEÓN
DENOMINACIÓN DE ORIGEN

Wine: Pricum Primeur
Grapes: 100% Prieto Picudo

Produced from very low yielding (10 hectoliters/hectare) vines aged between 60 and 100 years old. All grapes were hand harvested and sorted prior to destemming. The grapes were chilled overnight in a cooler prior to native-yeast fermentation in temperature controlled foudres. The wine underwent malolactic fermentation in barrel and saw a further 3 months of aging in oak prior to light filtration and bottling.

2010: "Vivid ruby-red. High-pitched, spice-accented aromas of red berries, cherry and fresh flowers. Juicy and refreshingly brisk on the palate, offering raspberry and bitter cherry flavors and a touch of white pepper. Finishes with gentle chewiness, fine-grained tannins and impressive length, leaving a spicy note behind."

*Paraje de
El Santo*

TIERRA DE LEÓN
DENOMINACIÓN DE ORIGEN

Wine: Pricum Paraje de El Santo
Grapes: 100% Prieto Picudo

The grapes for this wine come from a single vineyard located near the village and is estate owned. The vines are 80 years of age and are oriented in east-west rows on clay soils at just over 800 meters elevation. Grapes are hand harvested and sorted prior to destemming. Fermented in temperature controlled foudres and aged 19 months in French oak barrels.

2007: "The purple-colored 2007 Paraje de El Santo is 100% Prieto Picudo from a single 80-year-old vineyard aged for 19 months in French oak. The nose is a bit muted and the wine is not as complex as the Prieto Picudo cuvee. It seems taciturn and unexpressive at the moment but it may simply need time because the raw materials appear to be first class."

"High-pitched red fruits and flowers on the nose, with a sexy Asian spice quality and a hint of minerals; smells like a high-class Burgundy. Silky in texture and alluringly sweet, with deep but lively raspberry and cherry flavors and strong mineral cut. Very precise, tangy wine with refreshing back-end energy and a lingering floral note. Reportedly from vines over 80 years of age, planted higher than 800 meters."

PRICUM

Valdemuz

TIERRA DE LEÓN
DENOMINACIÓN DE ORIGEN

Wine: Pricum Valdemuz
Grapes: 100% Prieto Picudo

Produced from the oldest and lowest yielding estate vineyard, Valdemuz. Vines are aged between 100 and 115 years old and yield only 8 hectoliters per hectare. The vineyard is at a higher elevation than Paraje de El Santo and has stonier soils. The grapes are hand harvested from these old bush vines and sorted again at the winery prior to processing. A major difference between this and Paraje de El Santo, is that this wine incorporates 20% whole bunches along with 80% destemmed fruit in the fermentation. There is a cold pre-fermentation maceration prior to fermentation in temperature controlled French oak fudres. Following fermentation with native yeasts this wine saw 18 months aging in new French oak barrels.

Toro D.O.

D.O. Toro was producing wine as early as the first century BC, with the Greeks noting the quality of the wines. Alfonso the 9th gifted lands to many religious institutions leading to the construction of many churches and other religious structures within the town of Toro. Toro is a late-bloomer in terms of quality and recognition on the international stage. An influx of stainless steel equipment in the last fifteen years has lead to better control in the winery and quality has risen dramatically. The wine is nearly all red; powerful and full of grip.

Climate: The climate is continental with summer temperatures reaching over 100° Fahrenheit and winter temperatures falling to the low teens. Due to the long, hot growing season the fruit tends to have thick skins and be very ripe, both major factors in producing the style of hearty red wines the region is known for.

Soil: Alluvial soils dominate this area with well-draining stony subsoils that are poor in organic matter.

Grape Varieties: Tinta de Toro is the main grape now accounting for nearly 75% of the plantings, an increase from ~60% in the mid-1990's.

Bodegas Elias Mora

This Bodega, situated in the famous village of San Roman de Hornija, was started by the two Victorias; Victoria Benavides and Victoria Pariente. The vision for the project included production of both white wines from Rueda and red wines from Toro. Recently, the Victorias have separated their winemaking facilities, with the Bodega in Toro renamed Bodegas Elias Mora, to better concentrate on production of each type of wine to its highest possible quality.

The winery owns 8 Ha. (17.6 acres) of vineyards, including the “Los Pajaros vineyard” and “La Veleta” as well as a few small plots owned by farmers, also planted in San Roman de la Hornija. The vines are planted at 2,600 feet above sea level. The soil comprises clay and limestone with big stones on the surface.

The winery is named after Elias Mora, the man who owned some of the core vineyards for the production of the Victoria's red wine. A few years ago, he sold his vineyard to Dos Victorias on the condition that he tend the vineyard until his death.

Wine: Elias Mora

Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

The grapes come from a selection from the Los Pajaros and La Veleta vineyards planted in San Roman de Hornija. The harvest took place during the end of September. After the malolactic fermentation, the wine was aged for 6 months in 100% new American oak barrels. Clarification with egg whites was done before bottling. The wine was bottled without filtration or stabilization.

2010: “High-pitched red fruit aromas are complicated by notes of vanilla, woodsmoke and cracked pepper. The texture is supple and the flavors of cherry and raspberry are juicy, deep and precise. This is a fruity and approachable drink with strong finishing cut and very good length.”

2011: “A lovely rendering of Tempranillo, this shows excellent balance that is rooted in perfect ripening of the fruit. Although the wine is generously flavored and textured, it also shows fine freshness. Moreover, the balance of oak and tannin to fruit is very well measured, leaving the wine with plenty of structure to improve for five years, but also making current enjoyment possible with food. Lots of little nuances emerge from this wine with aeration, so decant this if serving it anytime soon.”

Wine: 2V Premium
Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

This wine is produced from the oldest vines of the Senda del Lobo vineyard, aged 80 years and older. The grapes saw a 5 day pre-fermentation maceration at low temperature followed by a moderately warm fermentation with pigeage twice a day for 14 days. Malolactic took place in new French oak barrels. Aged for 17 months in 100% Taransaud and Daganeaux barrels.

2004: “The 2004 V2-Premium is sourced from a single vineyard with 80+-year-old vines. The wine was aged for 17 months in new French oak. Bodegas y Vinedos Maurodos

Bodegas y Vinedos Maurodos owns 35 hectares in the villages of Villaester and San Roman de Hornija, planted mainly with Tinta de Toro, which comes from the same family as Tempranillo, but adapted to Toro over centuries. This adaptation has lead to smaller berries which in turn lead to deeper color and more intense aroma and structure than typical of Tempranillo from other regions. It is possible to separate two different soil areas, in Villaester the soil has sand and clay with some gravels, while in San Roman the soil is more stony. Grapes mature sooner in San Roman than Villaester. The vines range in age up to 70 years old and are pruned to grow as bushes rather than on vertical trellises. On the vines the grapes hang low under a rounded canopy of leaves that protects them from scorching summer temperatures. This type of pruning concentrates the flavor of the grapes as it naturally limits the yield of grapes for each vine.

"Even though the region has undergone long periods of neglect, today many of Spain's notable winemakers are investing in Toro. One of the hottest is Bodegas Mauro, begun by Mariano Garcia, the former winemaker of the famous Vega Sicilia winery in Ribera del Duero, and his sons Eduardo and Alberto. This producer has pedigree and is helping to bring Toro to the forefront of Spain's wine scene." Leslie Sbrocco San Francisco Chronicle February 10, 2005

"García is bigger than Ribera del Duero, says Victor de la Serna, a deputy editor at the Madrid daily newspaper, El Mundo, and one of Spain's leading wine authorities. 'Mariano is the great man of Spanish wine,' de la Serna says. 'He's the No. 1 winemaker in the country. A whole school of people have been mentored by Mariano.'" Wine: Prima

Grapes: 95% Tinta de Toro, 5% Garnacha

The grapes are sourced from vines aged 25 years from the villages of San Roman de Hornija, Villaster and Morales. The vineyards for this wine are growing in sandy-clay soils as opposed to the stonier soils of fruit sourced for San Roman and are trained both en vaso and to wire. The grapes are harvested by hand with a selection of grapes in the vineyard. The wine is fermented in temperature controlled, conical, stainless steel tanks which allow for caps to naturally be broken very softly during pump overs. The wine was aged for 12 months in second and third fill French and American oak barrels, which had previously been used for the maturation of San Roman. Unfiltered.

Wine: San Roman
Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

The wine San Roman is the product of Bodegas Mauro's work in Toro where Mariano Garcia was involved in a new wine project. Mariano's interest in Toro began in 1995, studying various terroirs with different microclimates and the characteristics and potential of the Tinta de Toro and Garnacha grape varieties. The purpose of these experiments was to produce powerful yet elegant wines with subtle tannins and alcohol-acidity balance.

All fruit was hand harvested with different vineyard plots being vinified separately to respect the characteristics of the different terroirs. The wine was fermented / macerated for 20 days and aged for 24 months in French oak barrels of different ages.

Canto Petirrojo

This wine, produced by the Aragon brothers of Cillar de Silos, aims at breaking down the stereotype of Toro wines as rustic. The goal is to make an intensely fruity wine, pleasant and far from the traditional concept of wines from this zone.

Wine: El Curato

Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

Produced from 20-40 year old vines, hand harvested with temperature controlled fermentation in stainless steel and aged 6 months in a combination of American and French oak barrels. Bottled unfiltered.

Bodegas Abanico

The management team is looking to create a wine with expression of variety, essence of place, intensity of aroma, clean fruit, and sweet tannins. The winery has 30 of their 82 hectares planted with tinta de toro vines. Fruit for this new wine comes from 30 year old estate grown vines in the Guareña river valley and from a 40 year old vineyard near the village of El Pego.

Wine: Eternum Viti

Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

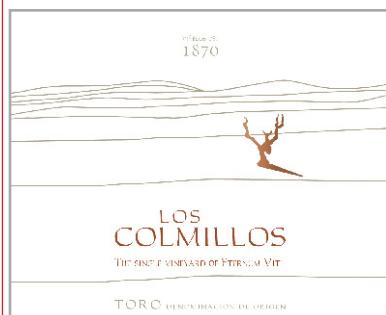

Grapes were cold macerated for 10 days at 42° F prior to fermentation to maximize aroma and color. Fermentation lasted 10 days at temperatures between 68-77° F, followed by an addition 12 days of post-fermentation maceration of skins. After pressing the wine underwent malolactic fermentation in 225 liter barriques, followed by 10 months aging in barrel. All barrels were made of French oak with 50% new and 50% one year old from the following coopers; Nadalie, D'Argaud, Sylvain, Demptos. 70% of the barrels were toasted medium plus and the other 30% medium.

Wine: Eternum Viti Los Colmilllos

Grapes: 100% Tinta de Toro

According to records, the “Los Colmilllos” (The Tusks) vineyard was planted in 1950. The owner, Manuel Martin Amores, however, swears it was planted way back in the 1870s. His grandfather, when required to document his estate, chose to register the later date as back in the early 1990s old vines were considered less productive and, consequently, less valuable. Today, of course, we know that really old vines are the determining factor in producing world class wines of great concentration and finesse.

Produced from 130+ year old vines. Fruit was hand harvested and saw fermentation in stainless steel tanks. The wine was racked to new French oak barrel for malolactic fermentation which was followed by 16 months of aging in barrel. The was bottled without filtration.

2008: “it delivers a compelling aromatic array of sandalwood, incense, truffle, licorice, and lightly roasted black fruits. Full-bodied and powerful on the palate, the wine is layered, dense, and filled with black fruit flavors, spice notes, and licorice. It will evolve for 5-7 years and offer a drinking window extending from 2015 to 2028. In the scheme of things it is a great value in serious red wine.”

Utiel-Requena D.O.

The region is located in the western portion of the province of Valencia and takes its name from nearby towns, Utiel and Requena. Wine grapes have been grown here since the 7th Century BCE.

There are ~37,000 hectares planted, maintained by 6,500 growers which supply fruit to 110 wineries.

Climate: The climate here is a combination of Continental influence with extreme temperatures year-round and Mediterranean influence with hot summers and strong, moderating winds.

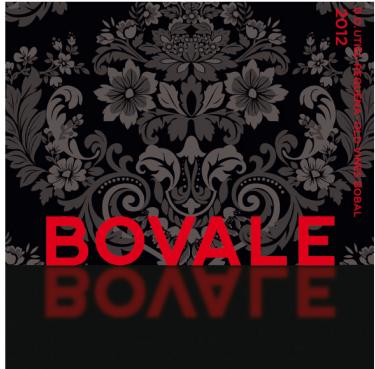

Soil: Brown limestone with low organic matter predominates the mostly flat vineyards.

Grape Varieties: Bobal accounts for 80% of plantings in the DO. It is known for its particularly high levels of anthocyanin (color). Other allowed red grapes include: Tempranillo, Garnacha Garnacha Tintorera, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah, Pinot Noir, Petit Verdot, and Cabernet Franc.

The predominant white variety is Macabeo (Viura). White grapes account for a bit more than 5% of plantings. Allowed white grapes include: Merseguera, Tardana, Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc, Parellada, Verdejo, and Moscatel de grano menudo.

Isaac Fernandez Seleccion

Isaac Fernandez Selection is the newest venture of the famous winemaker, Isaac Fernandez, who has spent more than 25 years producing some of the best wines in Northern Spain. He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Bovale

Grapes: 100% Bobal

The name Bovale comes from the Latin word for shape of the Bobal grape bunch, similar to a bull's head. Bobal is known to have one of the highest levels of anthocyanin (color) of any red wine grape. This wine is produced from vines aged 60 years and older. They are planted to mainly flat vineyards, at high elevations with the vines growing in brown limestone and clay soils. Vines are trained to wires to allow optimal control of ripening.

Grapes were hand harvested and brought to the winery. After destemming the grapes underwent alcoholic and malo-lactic fermentation in stainless steel tanks. Following fermentation the wine was aged for 6 months in a combination of 70% French oak and 30% American oak barrels.

2011: “Opaque ruby. Ripe dark berry scents are complicated by dried flowers and licorice. Takes a brighter turn to red fruits in the mouth, offering gently sweet raspberry and cola flavors and a hint of rose pastille. Finishes sappy and long, with subtle smokiness and even, polished tannins.”

Valdeorras D.O.

D.O. The name Valdeorras, literally translates as valley of gold, likely named for the fact that Romans found and mined gold here. As usual, the Romans also planted vines. Recently, a focus on the native grapes, Mencia and Godello has gained significant momentum. The D.O. was established in 1977.

Climate: The valley is far enough eastward so that there is a balanced of Atlantic and Continental influences. The summers are hot and sunny. There is the possibility of strong storms as cool, wet Atlantic air meets the hot air from the mesa.

Soil: Nearly all of the vineyards are based on the valley floor of the River Sil. As such the majority of the soils are alluvial and water-retentive, there are some outcrops of limestone in some areas.

Grape Varieties: The traditional grapes, Mencia, red and Godello, white are the focus of plantings. Most vines are trained low to the ground and unstructured although some are espalier trained. There are some allowed, experimental varieties being planted including Cabernet Sauvignon, Riesling, Tempranillo. Established plantings include Palomino and Tintorera among others that are not being renewed.

The winery was founded in 1964 and has vineyards in 4 different villages of Valdeorras. All of their vines are planted between 300 and 750 meters in elevation with the best wines coming from sites higher than 450 meters. Grapes for this wine come from three different soil types; Slate based soils - giving aromatic, mineral-inflected and powerful wine, Granite based soils - giving balanced acids and floral notes, Alluvial soils - giving weight to the wine.

Wine: Tempestad

Grapes: 100% Godello

Grapes for this wine come from three different soil types; Slate based soils - giving aromatic, mineral-inflected and powerful wine, Granite based soils - giving balanced acids and floral notes, Alluvial soils - giving weight to the wine.

Grapes are hand-sorted at the winery prior to destemming and crushing. Fermentation proceeds with native yeasts in stainless steel tanks at 60 degrees F. When the fermentation is complete, the wine is aged on lees for 3 months prior to bottling.

Valencia D.O.

D.O. One of the most export focused D.O.s in Spain due to the proximity to the port in Valencia. Wine from the region was mentioned by Juvenal in the 2nd century BC. The region produces red, white, rose and sweet wines from 4 distinct subregions.

Climate: The coastal vineyards have a usual Mediterranean climate. The inland growing regions have a more continental climate with temperature swings of 70° Fahrenheit a day possible during the growing season.

Soil: The soils vary considerably by subregion but generally include brown or red, limestone derived soils along with some clay or sand depending on the region.

Grape Varieties: In warmer sub-regions that vines are untrained and widely spaced, approximately 8 feet apart. In the cooler sub-regions, the vines are planted in rows with espalier training. Drought resistance is a major factor in the area and specialized root stocks are used to cope with the lack of water. Drip irrigation is now allowed, but is obviously dependent on having water for the system.

This winery sources fruit from over most of Valencia. Moscatel is a key grape, especially in the eastern portions of the D.O. and is a great base for wines that focus on bright and fruity flavors.

Wine: Flare

Grapes: 100% Muscat of Alexandria

This wine is produced from Valencia's viticultural star, Moscatel. However, unlike more traditional, fortified styles, this wine's residual sugar is not due to fortification but to arrested fermentation. Tank fermented until reaching 7.5% alcohol and then chilled and sterile filtered to remove the yeast. Carbonation is created through the Charmat method.

N/V: "Pale straw. Fresh pear, melon and lichee aromas are brightened by white flowers and nutmeg. Frothy and deep in sweet tropical fruit flavors but nicely energized by mineral and spice qualities that carry into the finish. A touch short but plenty fresh and vibrant. Serve this with fresh fruit as a mid-course or simple dessert."

D'Este Vino

This project started as a tribute to Tempranillo by winemaker Joaquin Galvez and Aurelio. With Tempranillo forming the backbone of Spain's most famous wines, the La Viña Cooperative in Valencia planted Tempranillo widely with the goal of reproducing some of the qualities of those famous wines. This project would not be possible without the wealth of vineyards and range of altitudes the coop has planted. Contrary to popular opinion that Valencia is too warm for Tempranillo, the cooperative has planted the varietal at a range of altitudes from 300 to nearly 900 meters above sea level, at these high altitudes, the Tempranillo ripens slowly developing a tremendous aromatic potential. The lower altitude vines take advantage of cooling sea breezes and the higher altitude vines cooler night to maintain and develop those aromatic qualities. The reason Cabernet Sauvignon is blended into the wine is to allow for a stylistic continuity vintage to vintage.

Wine: El Molet (Formerly El Molinet)

Grapes: 85% Tempranillo, 15% Cabernet Sauvignon

The varietals are co-fermented in stainless steel tanks and aged 6 months in oak barrels prior to being bottled unfiltered.

2006: 88 points International Wine Cellar issue 133 July/Aug '07

2007: "Purple-colored, the wine has an expressive perfume of cedar, tobacco, mineral, and blackberry. Smooth-textured and layered, this ripe, spicy wine has a forward personality and a lengthy finish. Drink it over the next five years."

90 points Wine Advocate issue 178 August '08

2009: "Inky ruby. Floral aromas of blackberry, tobacco, licorice and dark chocolate. Suave on entry, then firmer in the middle, with an edge of acidity to the dark berry, bitter cherry and mocha flavors. Slightly dry tannins add grip to the spicy, focused finish. This needs some air or bottle age."

88(+?) points International Wine Cellar issue 152 Sept/Oct 2010

"Sweet blackberry aromas come with floral edgings, and the whole is impressive. Full-bodied and balanced, with healthy, ripe black cherry and dark plum flavors. Finishes spicy, with a note of bitter espresso. 90% Tempranillo with 10% Cabernet Sauvignon. One of the best wines from Valencia." Best Buy

Anecoop - La Vina

Wine: Casa L'Angel Cabernet Sauvignon

Grapes: 90% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Tempranillo

The vineyards for the creation of Casa L'Angel Cabernet Sauvignon are located in the municipality of Fontanars dels Alforins (Valencia), grapes are sourced from the single vineyards of "Finca El Poblet" for the Cabernet Sauvignon and "Finca Traver" for the Tempranillo. Both vineyards were replanted in the mid to late 1990s. They are at a altitude of 600 m above sea level. The climate is dry with sandy-loam soils.

The varieties were fermented separately, after a gentle destemming and light crushing. The fermentation-maceration took place in 20,000 kilo, stainless steel tanks. Fermentations start cool and finish warm, this combined with a program of pumping over, extracts color and appropriate structure in the end yielding a clean fermentation and high quality wine.

Following alcoholic fermentation, the various lots of Cabernet Sauvignon and Tempranillo were aged for about 3 months in used French oak barrels.

2009: 88 points Wine Spectator August 2011

2011: "Opaque ruby. Ripe blueberry and cherry aromas are complemented by notes of cracked pepper and bitter chocolate. Nervy and precise, with good energy to its dark berry and cherry pit flavors. Finishes with refreshing bitterness and good cut, leaving a peppery note behind."

88 points International Wine Cellar Issue 164 Sept/Oct 2012

Wine: Casa L'Angel Ecologic

Grapes: 60% Syrah, 40% Tempranillo

Both grape varietals come from a certified organic vineyard "Casa Colomer." This vineyard is planted in sandy loam soils situated at 600 m above sea level.

The varieties were fermented separately, after a gentle destemming and light crushing. The fermentation-maceration took place in stainless steel tanks of 20,000 kilos of capacity. Fermentations start cool and finish warm, this combined with a program of pumping over, extracts color and appropriate structure in the end yielding a clean fermentation and high quality wine.

The whole process was conducted according to the most stringent guidelines established by the Committee of European farming, being certified by the IMO, which is accredited by the USDA for the marketing of "wine made from organic grapes"

2009: "Glass-staining ruby. Intense, spicy aromas of red- and blackcurrant, cracked pepper and violet; showing the syrah today. Dense and chewy in the mouth, offering zesty dark berry flavors and picking up a firm edge with air. Lingers nicely on the finish, leaving behind a slightly bitter berry skin quality."

88 points International Wine Cellar issue 152 Sept/Oct 2010

2011: "Vivid ruby. Cherry and blackcurrant on the nose, along with baking spices and loamy earth. Sappy dark fruit flavors show a good depth and sweetness but avoid coming off as heavy, with a peppery note adding bite. Finishes smooth and broad, with good length and lingering spiciness."

Wine: Casa L'Angel Cepas Viejas (Old Vines)
Grapes: 65% Cabernet Sauvignon and 35% Tempranillo

There are two vineyards used for the production of Casa l'Angel Old Vines; "Casa Tortosa" and "Finca San Vicente." Both vineyards were planted in the mid- to late-1980s and produce small quantities of intense grapes. They both have typically sandy clay loam soils and are at a height of 600 m above sea level.

The varieties were fermented separately, after a gentle destemming and light crushing. The fermentation-maceration took place in stainless steel tanks of 5,000 kilos of capacity. Fermentations start cool and finish warm, this combined with a program of pumping over, extracts color and appropriate structure in the end yielding a clean fermentation and high quality wine. Following alcoholic fermentation the Cabernet and Tempranillo were aged separately for 8 months in new and one year old French oak barrels. They completed their malolactic fermentations in barrel yielding a more complex and well-integrated wine.

2008: "Deep crimson-colored, it exhibits an expressive nose of cedar, spice box, and assorted black fruits. This leads to a mouth-filling, forward, savory wine that can be enjoyed over the next 4 years."

88 points Wine Advocate issue 188 April 2010

2012: "Inky ruby. Fresh black and blue fruit aromas, with notes of peppery spices and woodsmoke adding complexity. Fleshy and expansive on the palate, offering ripe blueberry and mulberry flavors and a subtle note of allspice. Shows a creamy quality on the broad, appealingly sweet finish, with supple tannins adding shape."

D.O.P Vino de Calidad de Valtiendas

This wine comes from the recently (2007) created Quality Wine Region of Valtiendas. The region is in the Northeast of the province of Segovia abutting its more famous neighbor, Ribera del Duero. A key difference versus Ribera del Duero is the altitude of the vineyards, 900 meters and higher. Currently there are 5 recognized Bodegas in the region, with 100 hectares under cultivation.

Pago El Almendro

Wine: Vivencias

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

Vivencias is produced from a 1.4 hectare vineyard plated with 20 year old Tinto Fino vines. The soils are calcerous clay with big stones. In 2008 the harvest was very late, starting on November 4 and ending with the first snowfall of the winter. Grapes saw a total of 25 days maceration with the must/wine during fermentation in stainless steel tanks. The wine was aged for 10 and half months in second-year, fine-grained French oak barrels.

2008: “Deep purple in color, it displays a super-fragrant bouquet of earthy minerals, garrigue, lavender, balsamic, black cherry, and blackberry. In the glass it exhibits a racy personality with loads of bright fruit, succulent flavors, and impeccable balance. It should evolve gracefully for 3-4 years and deliver prime drinking from 2014 to 2023.”

92 points Wine Advocate issue 195 June 2011

2009: “Bright violet color. Fresh black raspberry and cherry aromas are brightened by suggestions of white pepper and fresh rose. Tangy red and dark berry flavors have striking depth and sweetness, with a bright mineral note adding lift and urgency. Picks up a candied floral quality in the glass and finishes with appealing sweetness and very good length.”

Wine: Evolet
Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

This is the first vintage of Evolet, a new brand for restaurateur and winemaker Oscar Hernando. This wine is produced with 100% Tempranillo grapes, from 20 year old vines planted in very chalky soils at 900 meters above sea level. Grapes were hand harvested and fermented in stainless steel tank. The wine was then aged in 500 L oak barrels for 6 months.

2012: "Saturated ruby. Cherry, dark berries, cola and peppery spices on the fragrant nose. Smooth, pliant and sweet, boasting very good breadth to its ripe blackberry and cherry-vanilla flavors. Finishes sappy, broad and long, with lingering spiciness and no obvious tannins."

Catalonia

DG Viticultors

DG Viticultors is based in Catalonia, halfway between Barcelona and Priorat, about 40 Km from the Mediterranean Sea. While vines were first planted in 1991, the serious production of wine started in 2006. They focus on the production of dessert wines made from botrytised grapes. Since their wines are so far out of the norms for the DO, they choose to label their production as table wine and are limited to the use of the term “wine” on their bottles.

Wine: Petit Caligo L/09-08

Grapes: 70% Sauvignon Blanc, 30% Chardonnay

Hand harvested with tiny productions of 2 hl/ha for Sauvignon Blanc and only 0.8 hl/ha for the Chardonnay. The grapes are whole-bunch pressed in a basket press. The Sauvignon Blanc aged for eight months in inox tank and the Chardonnay aged for 1 year in new 400 liter french oak barrels. Residual sugar in the finished wine is 125 g/l; 10.5% alc.

L/09-08: “Pale gold. Lemon pith, ripe pit fruits and spices on the nose, brightened by a suave floral note. Sweet, expansive and spicy, with energetic floral lift giving the candied peach, citrus fruit and honey flavors a light touch.

Repeats the floral note on the long, sappy finish, which shows very good persistence and tangy bite for a late-harvest wine.”

91 points International Wine Cellar issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

“This is soft and lush on the nose, with a slightly lacquer-like scent. The palate feels thick but nicely acidic, keeping it on an even keel. Flavors of honey, apricot and preserved papaya set up a fleshy, plump finish that brings it all home. A blend of 70% Sauvignon Blanc and 30% Chardonnay.”

Wine: Caligo L/06-07

Grapes: 65% Chardonnay, 25% Sauvignon Blanc, 10% Albariño

Produced from hand harvested vines with tiny yields of only 800 liters per hectare. The grapes are whole-bunch pressed in a basket press. The temperature controlled (between 13° C and 17° C) fermentation lasts for over two and a half months. The wine is then aged for 18 months in new 400 liter french oak barrels. Residual sugar in the finished wine is 180 g/l; 11.5% alc.

L/06-07: “Vivid gold. Intense aromas of apricot nectar, orange marmalade, mango and gingerbread. Lush and creamy in texture, offering broad pit and tropical fruit flavors and notes of smoke and dried flowers. Densely packed but also energetic, with excellent clarity and spicy lift. The finish clings with excellent tenacity and leaves spice and smoke notes behind.”

93 points International Wine Cellar issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

“After a waxy opening, the bouquet unveils honey and peach aromas that are totally inviting. It feels thick but not cloying, and the honeyed flavors of banana, peach and dulce de leche are a prelude to the creamy, thick and deeply layered finish. Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc and Albariño make the blend.”

91 points Wine Enthusiast issue 2511 November 2012

Wine: Caligo Essència L/06-08

Grapes: 100% Chardonnay

Produced from hand harvested vines with very low yields of only 350 liters per hectare. The grapes are whole-bunch pressed in a basket press. Fermentation lasts for over six months under controlled temperature conditions (between 13° C and 18° C). Aged for two years in new 400 liter french oak barrels. Residual sugar in the finished wine is 300 g/l; 8% alc.

L/06-08: “Bright gold. Candied fig, ripe peach, orange pith and spices on the hugely aromatic nose. Deep, juicy and extremely sweet but lively, offering an array of dense, honeyed orchard and pit fruit flavors lifted by juicy citrussy quality. Finishes with serious cling and length, echoing the candied pit fruit flavors. All of these wines come from Pontons, a very cool area in Catalonia’s Alt Penedes region.”

93 points International Wine Cellar issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

“Bold and gold, with penetrating aromas of orange, dried apricots, sweat and honey comb. The feel is rich and layered, with just enough acidity to lend volume to the apricot, dried peach and honey flavors this late-harvest Chardonnay is pushing. Thick and a bit unctuous on the finish; drink now.”

Vino de la Tierra de Castilla

This regional wine designation encompasses the southern third of Spain, roughly south of a line running through Madrid from east to west. The regional designation encompasses vineyards that lie outside of D.O.s and offer more winemaking freedom in terms of allowed varieties and methods. Castilla is a vast, high altitude plateau, much of which is under vine. The climate is continental with very cold winters and hot, arid summers. Rainfall is low and controlled irrigation is necessary to keep the vines alive.

Bodegas Abanico

This winery is a new project for Rafael de Haan in Vino de la Tierra de Castilla.

Wine: Sinfonia

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

2012 was a difficult vintage in Mancha due to severe drought. The healthiest grapes came from irrigated vineyards, where water stress could be better managed. The wine was made from 40 year old vineyards planted in sandy and limey-clay soils. They yield only 3,000 kilos per hectare due to the harsh, hot and dry conditions on the meseta. Grapes were hand harvested during the early of September into 20 kilo boxes to avoid crushing the grapes during transport to the winery. Maceration and fermentation lasted 15 days with both pump-overs and rack-and-return used to extract gentle tannins.

2010: 89 points International Wine Cellar issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

2011: “(raised in French and American oak): Bright purple. Musky aromas of cherry compote, cassis, licorice and smoky Indian spices. Round, broad and forward, offering weighty dark fruit, licorice and bitter chocolate flavors. Finishes with soft tannins, gentle spiciness and good length.”

88 points International Wine Cellar issue 164 Sept/Oct 2012

2012: “Bright ruby. Heady aromas of cherry and blueberry, with a peppery overtone. Round and velvety on the palate, with sweet dark fruit flavors showing good depth and a touch of warmth. Closes smooth and broad, with lingering blue fruit and spice notes.”

Wine: Trencalos Sauvignon Blanc

Grapes: 100% Sauvignon Blanc

Produced from Sauvignon Blanc vines averaging 12 years old. The vines are grown in sandy loam in central southern Spain. The climate there is continental with Mediterranean influence; a cold winter is followed by hot summer days and warm summer nights. Long, slow fermentation took place in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks to maintain bright, fresh fruit aromas in the finished wine.

2013: "Bright straw. Precise, spice-tinged aromas of lime and green apple, plus hints of fresh herbs and quinine. Lean and focused on the palate, with a pleasant bitter edge to its citrus fruit flavors. Finishes clean and crisp, with good length."

87 points International Wine Cellar issue 176 Sept/Oct 2014

Wine: Trencalos Tempranillo

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

Produced from Tempranillo vines averaging 20 years old. The vines are grown in sandy clay-loam with high level of active limestone. The climate there is continental with Mediterranean influence; a cold winter is followed by hot summer days and warm summer nights. Grapes underwent a pre-fermentation cold soak to enhance color and fruit aroma in the finished wine. Fermentation occurred in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks.

2013: "Vivid ruby. Cherry, dark berries and a hint of black pepper on the nose. Lively red and dark berry flavors show good clarity and pick up a subtle rose pastille nuance with air. The floral quality carries through the finish, which becomes deeper and sweeter with air. Nicely balanced and fruit-driven, with no tannins to get in the way of enjoying this wine early. Isaac Fernandez Selección

Isaac Fernandez Selection is the newest venture of the famous winemaker, Isaac Fernandez, who has spent more than 25 years producing some of the best wines in Northern Spain. He seeks to respect the identity of each vineyard and to nurture wines that balance power, finesse and purity with the capacity to age.

Wine: Sensible

Grapes: 100% Tempranillo

The wine is produced at a family owned estate that was started in 2005. They currently own 24 Ha of vineyards, one plot of 17 Ha with 15 year old vines and the other 7 Ha with 12 year old vines. One has mostly chalky soils and the other clay with gravel, both are located 800 meters above sea level in Tudela de Duero. This new addition to the Isaac Fernandez Selección portfolio is a return to his winemaking roots just outside of Ribera del Duero.

Fruit for this wine was hand harvested. Both alcoholic and malolactic fermentations occurred in stainless steel tanks. The wine was then aged for 6 months in a combination of 75% French and 25% American oak barrels.

2013: "Ruby-red. Musky cherry and vanilla scents, with hints of cracked pepper and orange pith in the background. Offers spicy, slow-to-unwind red fruit flavors braced by juicy acidity. Finishes brisk and focused, with youthfully chewy tannins. A little aeration helps a lot here."

Vino de Mesa

A designation for wines that have been produced from geographically diverse vineyards, i.e. blended from different regions.

Golfo

A joint venture between a group winemakers, showcasing different regions and varieties. 50% of the wine is a blend in equal proportion of each of the wines while the other 50% of the wine is composed of a blend that is assembled and voted upon by all of the contributing winemakers. The voting occurs ~1 year after the vintage with the young wines already having seen 10-12 months in oak barrels. The wine is made all from fruit from the same vintage but is not allowed to be labeled as a vintage wine given its Vino de Mesa designation.

Wine: Golfo 8

Grapes: 24% Cabernet Franc, 20% Tempranillo, 20% Merlot, 10% Garnacha and 6.5% each of Petit Verdot, Cabernet Sauvignon, Graciano and Mencia

A joint venture between 8 winemakers, showcasing 8 regions and 8 varieties. After the assemblage, the wine was aged in 400 liter oak barrel for a further 6 months, fined with egg whites and bottled unfiltered. Barrels were donated by Demptos, Radoux and Quercus. Proceeds of the sale of the wine will be contributed to the construction of a winery and school for winemaking for native people in Mozambique. This second bottling of Golfo incorporates wine from the following wineries: Chateau Tours du Pas Saint-George (Merlot, St. Emilion), Abadía Retuerta (Petit Verdot, Sardon del Duero), Bodegas Ada (Garnacha, Navarra), Viña Izadi (Graciano, Rioja), Bodegas - Bernabé Navarro (Cabernet Franc, Alicante), Cillar de Silos (Tempranillo, Ribera del Duero), Bodegas Marqués de Griñón (Cabernet Sauvignon, Dominio de Valdepusa) and Bodegas y Viñedos Paixar (Mencia, Bierzo)

L.2004: 95 points Wine Advocate issue 169 February '07

L.2005: "Drop-dead gorgeous aromas of cassis, kirsch, blueberry, tobacco, graphite and lavender are expansive and strikingly precise. Dark berry flavors verge on jammy but maintain freshness thanks to bright minerality and acid lift. Really stains the palate, finishing with sweet boysenberry and blueberry notes and outstanding length."

92 points International Wine Cellar issue 133 July/Aug '07

"The contributors are all first-class and the resulting wine is outstanding... Dark purple-hued, it offers up a complex array of wood smoke, toast, Asian spices, blueberry, black currant, and mineral. Supple, layered, and elegantly styled, it has enough structure to evolve for 2-3 years. Drink this lengthy Bordeaux-like wine through 2020."
