“[On] the palate, the fruit is imposingly concentrated and deep in flavor...precisely something beautiful and enjoyable. Beware that this is a wine that will benefit greatly from time in the cellar,.. it is so proportional and so skillfully made that you could certainly enjoy it now with some very serious meat or fine aged cheese. I found this hard to score... But the point is, if my score is off, I made sure it was off on the low side, so buy this with confidence for a special occasion.”
