Reviews:

“The Mencia bottling from Bodegas Luna Beberide is made from vines that range from thirty to forty years of age, grown on clay and limestone soils. This cuvee is fermented and raised entirely in stainless steel and comes in at 13.5 percent octane in 2019. The bouquet wafts from the glass in a youthfully complex blend of dark berries, cassis, tree bark, bonfire, a touch of fresh thyme, dark soil tones and chicory. On the palate the wine is bright, fullish and tangy, with a good core, moderate tannins and lovely length and grip on the complex finish. This is a touch reductive when first opened, so if you are inclined to drink it in its youth, then decant it for fifteen or twenty minutes before serving. Despite its modest price tag, it will age very nicely, and I would be inclined to give it at least a few years of bottle age and really let it blossom properly. It is an outstanding value! 2021-2045+.”

“Dark violet. Black raspberry, cherry and floral aromas show fine definition and take on a spicy nuance with air. Juicy and open-knit, showing good depth to the bitter cherry and dark berry flavors. Dusty tannins frame a long, subtly smoky finish that echoes the cherry and floral notes. 2021 – 2027”

“The pure and unoaked 2019 Mencia is the essence of licorice, wild berries and flowers with an herbal twist. It's juicy, tasty, clean and expressive. It comes from a vineyard in the Valdetruchas paraje. This is a great introduction to the grape and region, reliable and a great value. 150,000 bottles produced.

It was bottled in December 2019.” Robert Parker
