"...It delivers an aromatic constellation of watermelon, blood orange, rose petals, a nice base of soil and just a hint of wild fennel in the upper register. On the palate the wine is full-bodied, focused and bright, with a good core of fruit, sound framing acids and good length and grip on the wellbalanced finish. The acids here are not particularly strident, so drink this tasty wine over the next year or so. 2025-2027"
