

Nessa Albariño 2022_(White Wine)

Adegas Gran Vinum is a second generation, family-owned winery that has been producing Albariño since the 1980's, prior to the creation of the Denomination of Origin Rias Baixas. They focus exclusively on Albariño from the Val do Salnes sub-region, which offers vineyard sites with distinct maritime influence.

The wines produced from both estate vineyards and vineyards they manage seek a repeatable saline undercurrent to the typical peach, apricot and floral aromas of Albariño.

Appellation	D.O. Rias Baixas
Grapes	100% Albariño
Altitude / Soil	40 meters / sandy loam and decomposed granite
Farming Methods	Traditional methods with vines trained on high pergolas
Harvest	By hand into small boxes for transport to the winery
Production	Static clarification followed by fermentation at low temperature for 20 days
Aging	Aged for a few months on fine lees prior to bottling
UPC / SCC / Pack Size	0183277000048 / 10183277000045 / 12

Reviews:

"The 2022 'Nessa' was sourced from vines that are roughly 20 years of age. Stored for two months in stainless steel on the lees prior to bottling, this offers a seamless mouthfeel on the approach. The flavor range here is outstanding texture, alongside Macadamia nut, kiwi and flinty ones on the palate, with shades of honeydew melon. Drink 2023-2027" 91 points Owen Bargreen; Owen Bargreen - October, 2023.

"The Nessa cuvée of Albariño from Gran Vinum is also made from younger vines, as these are around twenty years of age. It is handled the same in the cellar as the Mar de Viñas. The 2022 Nessa is bright and expressive aromatically, wafting from the glass in a mix of pear, casaba melon, salty soil tones, white flowers and just a whisper of brininess in the upper register. On the palate the wine is vibrant, fullish and complex, with good depth at the core, bouncy acids, fine focus and a long, well-balanced and classy finish. This does not have the same granitic undertow as the Mar de Viñas bottling and is more floral in personality, but it is every bit as good. 2023-2030+."

89 points View from the Cellar; John Gilman - Issue #103 January/February 2023.

