“[Elegant] and complex and refined like so many 2016 wines... this shows terrific class and complexity... it shows an extremely high ratio of aroma and flavor to its weight, which is precisely the characteristic that makes for magic in wines from... Barbaresco or Burgundy. The key difference here is that this costs less than 1/3 of what you would pay for a wine of comparable quality from either of those regions... this is ready to enjoy now, and wow, is it ever enjoyable.”
