

Viña Jaraba Cosecha 2024 (Red Wine)

Pago de La Jaraba is a family-owned winery built in the heart of La Mancha. While they can trace a history of notable regard for wines grown on the estate back to the mid-1700's their current goal is to produce high-quality, exclusively estate-sourced, flag-waving examples of the new "modern-traditional balanced" wines coming out of Spain.

They follow traditional, sustainable methods and farm 80 hectares of vineyards. In addition, they also grow cereal crops – wheat and barley as well as sunflowers, almond, pistachio and olive trees. Finally, they raise their own flock of sheep on estate scrub/forest both to enhance and protect soil quality and for production of artisan Manchego cheese.

Reviews:

"The 2024 vintage of the Viña Jaraba "Cosecha" bottling from Pago La Jaraba is composed from a blend of eighty percent tempranillo and ten percent each of cabernet sauvignon and merlot, with all of the vineyards farmed organically. The wine is aged four months in cask, with eighty percent of the barrels made of American oak and twenty percent made from French forests. The wine comes in this year at 13.5 percent octane and offers up a deep and nicely spicy nose of red and black cherries, tempranillo spices of clove and allspice, cigar wrapper, chalky soil tones and a nice framing of cedary oak. On the palate the wine is bright, ripe and full-bodied, with a good core of fruit, fine soil undertow, moderate tannins, tangy acids and good length and grip on the well-balanced finish that closes with a touch of raisin. This is a lot of wine for a very fair price! 2026-2040."
